“WE ARE CHAGRIN!!!”

Who, you ask, are we?

We are the foundation of the present;
the stairway to the future.

We are the dreams and hopes of those before us.

We are the promise of Chagrin; the replacement of those who live here now.

We are the athletes that give Chagrin spirit; the scholars that make Chagrin proud.

We are eager young minds producing fresh new ideas and earning the support of our community.

We are the children of yesterday; the adults of tomorrow.

We are the future. We are proud.

WE ARE CHAGRIN!

Opposite: Who says real Chagrinites don't stand in line at the Popcorn Shop?

Lower Left: Jeanette Milosevich, Karen Kania, Anne O'Connell, Kristin Philpott, Darla Wall, and Carey Cordes park in Chagrin.

Middle: Seniors perch high and dry on the rocks of the Chagrin river. The question is "How many feet stayed dry"?

Lower Left: It is said that real Chagrinites know which is the real Chagrin Falls and which is the man made. This, of course, is the man made side.

Lower: Seniors sport some fancy cars as they round the curve on Orange Street.

Middle Right: Jay Kranchalk always did want to be a cowboy.

Lower Left: Treg Charlton escapes sunburn on a hot summer day.

Lower Right: Lindsay Hunter and Margo Stanton relax during a weekend in Pymatuning, Pennsylvania.

Fall Days and Autumn Knights

Powder Puff Football

On a beautiful September Sunday, the junior and senior girls met in opposition at Harris Stadium. Each class was determined to defeat the other in the Annual Powder Puff Football Game; the seniors decked out in burgundy and ivory; the juniors in gray and blue. In the first half, both teams' defenses proved strong enough to prevent a score. The second half, however, was a different story. The juniors scored a touchdown and the extra 2 points making the score 8-0. In the fourth quarter, the seniors came back with a touchdown but failed to get the extra points. Thus the juniors emerged victorious.

Homecoming

The annual Homecoming Weekend began Thursday night with the bonfire. Despite the soggy weather, school spirit was at a climax, which was evident at the game Friday night. Our Chagrin Tigers proved strong as they shutout the Twinsburg Tigers 21-0. Homecoming festivities concluded Saturday night with the dance. The theme, "An Autumn Knight's Ball", was revealed with a fire-breathing dragon, a dungeon and a drawbridge. The band, "Sticky Fingers", kept us rocking all night long. As in the past this event, sponsored by the Senior class, was a huge success.

Middle Left: Matt Hanley gets friendly with the knight while the other senior decorators step back and appreciate the final product.

Middle Right: Anna Cottone, Camie Munz, Laura Osborne and Mr. Rydquist worked all day to prepare the gym for "An Autumn Knight's Ball."

Lower: The Homecoming Court looks on as the Tigers defeat Twinsburg on a chilly autumn night.

Fall Sports Unite Chagrin

Sports play an important role in the lives of many Chagrinites. Fall sports involve much of the student body, both directly and indirectly. For example, going to the football game is a Friday night tradition in the fall. The players, however, are not the only attractions at these social gatherings. The band, drill team, cheerleaders and cheerful (??) juniors selling concessions also contribute to the festivities. The community supports the school at games in addition to the Annual P.T.O. Sloppy Joe Dinner. These do not solely include football games, shown by the soccer team who gained support as they emerged as one of the top teams in the state. Equally important are the other students in CFHS who dedicate a large amount of time without receiving the same amount of publicity as varsity soccer and football. A fan can simply look at the large number of athletes and cheerleaders participating in the different levels of these two sports. Also, our golf, girls' and boys' cross country, volleyball and tennis teams showed a great deal of success, both in CVC action and tournaments. The accomplishments of our fall sports teams indicate the hard work and dedication of the students in addition to the participation and interest of our community.

Upper Right: Captain Shukys and Major Ferguson prepare the pumpkinmobile for take-off!

Pumpkin Roll '83'

Each year Grove Hill becomes the victim of the graduating class of Chagrin Falls High School. This year was no exception. Sometime during the weeks before or after Halloween, pumpkins are rolled, tossed, and pitched down the hill toward the center of town; then Seniors surf, sled and slide down on the spare pumpkin parts. It lasted for only one short hour but will not be easily forgotten. The pumpkin seeds will serve as fond remembrances in hair, shoes, and parents' cars.

Opposite Middle: What could Bob and Sean possibly find so amusing?

Opposite Lower Left: Another truckload to be trashed.

Lower: Laurie Riemenschneider and Pam Monastra think this is better than class anyway.

Seniors Now and Then

Top: It took us two tries but we finally got it right.

How Scary! It is finally our senior year! But many of us who looked forward to this special time now have a growing feeling of nostalgia. The future is uncertain and we turn to safety in the past. College looms in the not-so-distant future. A certain bond will never be broken for the Class of '84. These bonds were definitely strengthened as a result of the numerous projects which the senior officers undertook. We attempted to include not only our class, but the whole school as well. Homecoming '83 was an exhaustive effort, but, with the help of the Senior Class and our advisor, Mr. Rydquist, and his ambitious ideas that gave us incentive to carry on, the entire school came together during this medieval dance. Our efforts didn't end there. Usually, the Senior officers have nothing on their agenda until graduation. The officers, missing Mr. Rydquist and his ambitious ideas, decided to start another homecoming-type dance. The Valentine's Day Dance, featuring the band "Class Act", was pulled off rather successfully despite some initial scheduling conflicts.

Our next project included the sale of male specimens during the Senior Auction. Mr. Fordyce, the Head Auctioneer, made heavy profits for the class as a result of several females' willingness to "splurge." Meanwhile, a danger arose which threatened the possibility of an outdoor graduation because of the 1.9 mill levy's passage.

Finally, we would like to thank Chagrin Falls for so many great times, in school and out. The school, we feel, is more united than probably ever before. It was a privilege to be the Senior Class Officers of '84. Once again, Thanks!

—Matt Hanley, Senior Class President

Juniors

Junior Class Officers

Julie Kinloch, Secretary; Jenny Conner, Treasurer; Chris D'Amato, Vice-President; Cindy Keim, President.

Class spirit certainly thrived in this year's Junior Class. A party at Nancy Fitz's house before the first football game began the year with style. Of course the girls' victory over the Seniors in the Powderpuff Football game was a very big contributor to the unity of the class. Selling concessions at the home football games was hard work, especially for the class officers, but quite profitable. The Berkshire Hills County Club was the location of this year's Prom, which make the past three years of money-making endeavors worth every magazine, dispenser of liquid soap, and hot dog ever sold since their freshman year. Looking toward the future, these juniors have their senior year to look forward to, which can be expected to top even this year.

Eric Whitelaw, Secretary; Laura Viland, Treasure; Heidi Weiker, Vice President; Bruce Cambell, President.

The sophomore class has distinguished itself as an energetic group of students, as shown through their spirited support of the school and its functions. This fall the main project was the sale of Homecoming Mums to raise some money. Shortly afterwards, the Ring Staff sold class rings; attempting to spur sales with a slide show. During February, they held the annual magazine drive, adding a large amount of money to their treasury. Overall, it was a highly successful year serving as a bridge between the excitement of the freshman year and the responsibility of being juniors.

Freshmen

FRESHMEN CLASS OFFICERS John Fow, Treasurer; Julie Gottschalk, Secretary; Becky Daley, Vice President; and Mike Kramer, President.

This year has been very hectic for most of us. The new experiences we've enjoyed this year make things look promising for the years to come. We have a great class, and we've shown the rest of the school, that we know where it's at. With the victory in the Christmas hall decorating contest, we told everyone that we're #1, and with one of the first dances in the commons, we have opened the door for many to follow. Perhaps one of our most prosperous ventures was the sale of nuts and candy, raising over $1500 for our class. It was a good start and certainly shows no limit to what we can do next year. As for the officers, we would like to thank the many students and teachers who helped us have a very prosperous year.

Junior Girls Win 8-6

Powderpuff Football Game

Early in the fall, before school commences, the junior and senior boys start the laborious task of teaching the girls how to play football. Why? Because in the month of September one of the most grueling of games will take place between the junior and senior girls.

Annually, since 1970, the girls of the junior and senior classes meet in rivalry at Harris Stadium. When the tradition first began, it was less competitive but it has gradually evolved into a major sporting event. Boys who don't help coach the girls can also get involved. They dress up in cheerleading outfits and entertain the crowd when the game isn't so intense. The game creates immense school spirit and is enjoyed by all.

Middle: Seniors—Is "84" really number one?

Top: Junior Cheerleaders—Kenny "Jughead" Juergens, Brian, "Melvin" Winovich, Pete "Barne" Barnes, Chris "Lester the Molester" Zetwick, Bob "Wonski" Darden, Doug "Mouse" Detweiler, and Pete "Pedro" Goldman: Dolly Parton, step aside!

Middle Left: Cheryl Kranchalk and Rebecca Baldwin wait impatiently to play

Middle Right: Junior players: quiet but deadly.

Lower Left: Nancy Fitz escapes the seniors to, make the conversion

Lower Right: Julie Kinloch and Missy Bollen run in the ball. Are they going the right way?

Knight Life

Homecoming

This year's Homecoming proved to be an exciting, memorable event. The traditional three day weekend began with the words, "Senior men ignite!" As the students watched the huge bonfire burn, the band raised the crowd's spirit by playing "Eye of the Tiger". The evening ended with a post-bonfire party in the commons. On Friday, Tiger fans assembled to watch the Chagrin offense roll up 23 points and the defense shut Twinsburg out enroute to a 23-0 victory. Preceding the game, Kristin Philpott, escorted by Jack Subel, was crowned Homecoming Queen. Queen Kristin reigned over Saturday night's Homecoming Dance. The theme, "An Autumn Knight's Ball", featured Chagrin alumnus, Scott Torantalli, and his band, "Sticky Fingers". Chagrin couples danced and celebrated a very exciting and unforgettable weekend.

“The Mousetrap”

Sergeant Trotter (John Bartunek) awaits the perfect moment to kill his prey.

Kris Rosette and Wendell Robinson rehearse at one of the many evening practices in the High School drama room.

Kim Hamilton (Mrs. Boyle) plays dead during the intermission.

The fall play this year was a mystery written by Agatha Christie. The play, “Mousetrap” was directed by Wayne Merholtz with assistance by Karin Eastburn as student director. The cast was as follows:

|------------------------|------------------|
| Mollie Ralston | Kris Rosette |

'Tis the season

Halls decorating

By popular demand, Student Council sponsored Hall Decorating again this year. It was held the Thursday before the last week of school before winter vacation. Approximately a hundred students helped decorate various parts of the school. The freshmen, who had the science hall, won the interclass competition. The juniors brightened up the commons, the seniors decorated the library and the foyer and the sophomores had the third floor. It was a success and, in addition to the choir and band concert, put the students and faculty in the holiday spirit Friday and the beginning of the next week.

Lower Center: Somebody forgot to tell sophomore Chris Trudick what Santa is supposed to look like.

Lower Right: This tree, whose origin is unknown, ended up in the commons with the help of some junior guys.

Formal ushers in holiday season

Winter formal

Winter Formal, the traditional Sadie Hawkins Dance, was once again a huge success. The theme this year was "A Winter Fantasy." Music, performed by "Quick", ranged from Michael Jackson to Journey. Geoff Sutcliffe was crowned Formal King with a court of Treg Charleton and Steve Laird. The AFS Club did a good job decorating with assorted balloons, streamers, and tinsel. Punch, a band, and a lot of wild dancers made up what turned out to be a lot of fun.

Karen Kania, Christina Castrovinci, Michelle Barry, and Cammie Munz prepare the gym for the winter fantasy ahead.

Cupid Graces Chagrin

Valentine's Day Dance

This year's Senior class had a perfect cure for the mid-winter blahs. This, of course, was Chagrin's first Valentine's Day Dance. Though the weekend of February 18 was warm enough to give a person Spring Fever the dance was quite a success. The All-Chagrinite band, "Class Act", who's members included Lloyd Bell, Sean Kay, and Brian Moore, performed traditional rock.

Back to Basics

Math

There are a variety of different math courses to choose from at Chagrin Falls High School. Although one credit is recommended for graduation, many students choose to take more courses, especially students planning to go to college. Classes taken as a freshman often determine what classes you will take as a senior, provided you take a math class every year. Courses range in difficulty from German Math through Calculus, taken as accelerated math in the senior year. Courses in Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry are also offered. Many new computers were purchased by the school system this year. A student may take a nine week course or a semester of Computer Programming. Computer Programming has become one of the most popular classes, as technology continues to be the key to the future of our society.

English

English is a subject each student must experience throughout their four years of high school. English in grades nine, ten, eleven and twelve is offered, but a select group of students may take Honors English in their senior year. Honors English involves more work and is much more demanding, but is a very good course for students in the field of English, and may exempt them from some college English requirements if their scores are high enough on the required exam. The mandatory English and Honors English are the only choices a freshman and sophomore have. Juniors and seniors are given a larger selection of choices within the English Department. They may choose such courses as Words, Words, Words; Drama, Speech, and Creative Writing. Whether or not these courses are offered each year depends on the number of students signing up for the classes at the time of registration.

Foreign Affairs

German

German is the language taught by Herr Gerhardt and Frau Alt. Herr Gerhardt teaches first, third, and fourth year German students, while Frau Alt teaches second year students. Besides learning Deutsch and getting familiarized with German customs, students can also be active in the ever so popular German Club. The German Club members experience a variety of different activities such as skiing at Peak 'n Peak, a dinner at the Haufbrau Haus, and an Oktoberfest. For the first time in many years, Herr Gerhardt and Frau Alt accompanied a group of Chagrin German students on a two week trip to Germany, which all agreed was a wonderful and enjoyable experience.

Top: Laura Osborne and Bo Beaven seem to act strangely near the presence of the German Hugh Heffner—alias Mr. Gerhardt.

Lower Right: Mr. Gerhardt gives a furtive glance at the camera while Cameron Snider takes a break from studying and Bruce Bowser has trouble writing on the board.

French

French is taught by Mr. Pepper and Mrs. Colignon. Students not only learn the French language, but they also learn the customs and lifestyles of the French people. Spanish students love Fiestas and German students love Oktoberfest, French students partake in Les Fêtes, Les Fêtes help liven up the French classes. Besides these classroom activities, some French students, after a year or two, may take a trip to France.

Spanish

Spanish is taught by Mr. Pepper and Mrs. Hansen. It is not uncommon to find a Spanish class having a Fiesta or the Spanish Club going to Chi Chi's. Besides these fun activities, Spanish students also learn the language and customs of the Spanish, and some of the students may even enjoy a trip to Spain.

Latin

Latin is taught by Mrs. Klingensmith. Students learn about mythology and Greek history as well as Roman history. Although this language is no longer spoken, it is very helpful for students in order to understand their own language, and know the evolution of different words.

Top: The French class surrounds a startled Mrs. Colignon, while Brad Mueller shows his approval by blowing a bubble.

Middle: The sophomores clearly illustrate their superiority in Spanish while two freshman, Chris Exline and John Bannerman act like typical freshman.

Lower Left: The students in French I seem to like the camera better than studying and Jill Pinkett takes a stand.

Lower Right: Mrs. Klingensmith seems to be entertaining her Latin class as evidenced by ecstatic faces.

Daily Exercise

Exhausted students stumbling and staggering over the two-mile run line, intense aerobic training with Mr. Dworak, completing touchdowns in sloppy mud, and sweating indoor soccer players, were just some of the visions of a typical physical education class, regarded by most students as their favorite. The routine inside carries and outside carries had students tripping over their feet. The sophomores did their usual beating on freshmen in bombardment. Floor hockey participants had their usual share of bruises. Of course, nobody could forget the decathlon invented by the infamous Mr. Wem. Volleyball skills were taught but not always learned very well. Self-defense brought out white kimono-type robes, while the mat soaked up it's share of sweat from wrestling. The sub-zero temperatures and driving snows did nothing to stop the courageous gym classes from running perimeters. Daily exercise is certainly exhausting!

The sophomores attempt to act coordinated while weaving a basketball between their legs.

Laura Falsgraf and Laura Subel enjoy learning how to string an arrow while Mark Eastburn seems to enjoy the camera better.

Life in the lab

Science

The Science Department was up to its' regular antics this year. The big news this year was the hiring of Mr. Buckle, who replaced Chemistry teacher, Mrs. Allen.

The best way to remember the Science Department, however, is to review the sayings that so many science students have enjoyed over the year. These are some of the "Golden Oldies" that stuck out in the minds of some of the students. Patato Core Day—Frog Dissection Day—Congo Red Lab—Blood Test Day—The Spring Activity—The Infamous Bell Quizes—"Critter of the Week"—Shorebird!—Word Bird!—"Bogus Baby!"—"You Devil!"—"You're in Bad and Serious Trouble!"—"Rockin Ramon"—"Battles Baby!"—"Jumpin John"—The Battlesmobile—Formula Writing "Bad Guys"—Moletown—Massland—Particle City—Unknowns—"You Lie Like a Rug!"—"You were there!"—"Didn't get your money's worth"—"You're going 55 in a 35 mile zone"—"Boxcars?"—"Goin' creek stomp-ing"—" $W=mg$ "—"Away in the Manger"—"Just happen to have one right here"—Mr. Battle's favorite bumper sticker: Trees are some of my best friends—and many, many more. The "Golden Oldies" will long live in the hears of the science students.

Historical concepts

Social studies

In most schools, social studies is generally regarded as a boring subject, but at Chagrin Falls High School, history and social studies is anything but boring! Sociology, with its regular collection of baby eggs was a great experience. Mr. Ginatos, makes his classes quite an enlightening experience. Nobody could forget Mr. Piai's "timeouts" in Civil War. It is easy to see Senior Government is popular, because the course is always voted most favorite by the seniors.

Two and one-half credits of social studies are required for graduation. One unit of American History is required and one-half unit of World History is mandatory. A student graduating from Chagrin Falls High School always has a minor in social studies.

Pumpkin Roll — 1983:

By Barbara Christian

CHAGRIN FALLS — This is the village. An affluent community of upward mobile types whose kids have everything . . . money, cars, the kind of clothes only preppies would wear and . . . dum, dee, dum, dum . . . pumpkins . . . dum, dee, dum, dum . . . lots of them.

It was about 10 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 2. I was working the night watch on the city desk when a call came from one of my more reliable

What I was about to be privy to was the time and day of the most heinous, oft-repeated crime perpetrated on the community. An act so hideous, so ugly, so clandestine that it would take an underground network of collaborators to commit it.

I'M NOT TALKING murder, grand theft or arson. I'm talking . . . dum, dee, dum, dum . . . Pumpkin Roll!

My contact, talking quickly and

"I'm not talking murder, grand theft or arson' I'm talking . . . dum, dee, dum, dum . . . Pumpkin Roll!"

sources.

I had been waiting for the information for days and now I was about to find out what every cop on the street and every service department employee in Chagrin Falls wanted to know.

quietly, said just two words, "Tonight, 2:30 a.m." It should have been "tomorrow morning, 2:30 a.m.," but who is going to argue at a time like that. I knew what was meant but I wondered if I was ready for it.

The pumpkin roll would take place as usual, down Grove Hill, but it was to happen in just a few short hours and I had to be ready.

10:10 p.m. — I found my photographer Kevin Reeves lounging at his desk reading Cycle Magazine. I told him about the once-in-a-lifetime assignment and asked him to meet me on the hill at 2:30 a.m.

With the kind of cockeyed grin he is famous for, Reeves looked me square in the eye and said:

"What? 2:30 in the morning. Are you nuts? I have a date with a pillow. Here, you take the camera and". . . dum, dee, dum, dum . . . "Good luck!"

IT WAS MY BABY now and believe me, it was a heavy moment. Would I be up to it, could I focus the Nikon at that hour of the morning, in the dark? Could I get the story and . . . dum, dee, dum, dum . . . the picture?

11:30 p.m. — Back home, with the coffee pot on and the television tuned in, I began to wage a battle with the sandman. I knew I had to keep my eyes open and my wits sharp for the assignment ahead. To miss it would be to miss the biggest story of my career.

The night Grove Hill

12:30 a.m. — Johnny Carson gave way to David Letterman.

1:30 a.m. — I struggled against sleep and switched to a cable station which was showing a billiards top of the hill I was struck by the sight of a second police car, its lights off and waiting in the shadows of the WPA wall that rims the west side of the hill.

PASSING AS QUICKLY and innocently-looking as possible, I decided to take another pass through town to see if I could find the pumpkiners.

2:30 a.m. — This was the hour but and repeated the process. A fifth followed that.

IT WAS AN AWFUL sight, orange rinds and slime everywhere. And if that were not enough, the kids began playing in it, sliding on their bellies on the stuff, down the hill, until their hair, clothes, socks and underwear were saturated with pumpkin juice.

Some kids "surf" down on their feet, others by the seat of their pants.

3:00 a.m. — Neighbors in night clothes begin to emerge from their homes and with sleepy eyes survey the mayhem in mute silence.

3:15 a.m. — A cop, veteran of many a roll, sidles up to me and tells me this year's cargo of pumpkins seems to be stalled at mid-hill instead of sliding all the way down to Orange Street.

"The rain should have slicked the street for a good slide," he points out. "The problem, you see," he adds thoughtfully, "is that they used too many small trucks. You need a big dumper loaded with lots of pumpkins to get the momentum going."

His dissertation is interrupted by a squawk from his walkie-talkie. The neighbors are beginning to complain about the noise now. The cop leaves to take up a crowd control position at the bottom of the hill as the sergeant with the megaphone at the top of the hill begins to ask the crowd to disperse.

3:30 A.M. — The hill is nearly deserted now, except for a few die-hards who are taking one last slide. Threat of arrest if they do not leave causes the remaining pumpkiners to abandon the fun and head homeward.

"It was a good time," one pump-tournament. I had just an hour to go and for the first time I began to feel I could make it.

2:23 a.m. — A light rain began to fall as I left the house for the three block drive to Grove Hill. I could have walked the distance but something deep inside told me that wheels were my best defense if the situation got too slippery.

2:24 a.m. — With the exception of three youths trying to look casual as they leaned against the railing near the Popcorn Shop, the town looked deserted. But I knew that under this facade lurked most of the Chagrin Falls High School senior class, pumpkins at the ready and enough spirit and youthful enthusiasm to take them through this long, sleepless night.

2:26 A.M. — As I reached the corner of Main and East Orange streets I took note of a police car parked in the Marathon gas station.

Halfway up the hill, I noticed another sign that the roll had been anticipated. There they were, the white sawhorse barricades waiting to be set up across Summit, Cotnamge and Orange streets.

Yes, the police were ready and yes, they were willing to use those barricades if necessary when the pumpkins began to cascade down the hill. They had to do it. The police had to protect the motorists from the awful slime and the millions of seeds that would be spilled that night.

The sight of the barricades made my blood run cold.

2:27 a.m. — The police were, obviously, ready but ... where were the pumpkiners? Not wanting to look suspicious, I decided to reconnoiter around the block to the top of the hill for a better look. Stealthily, I maneuvered for a the car down the quiet streets. Once at the where were the trucks filled with pumpkins and where were the kids? I moved through the streets of town looking, waiting and watching for any sign that the roll was on. There was none.

2:33 a.m. — The scene at the top of Grove Hill had changed in the three minutes it took me to make the round trip through town. A hundred or more cheering kids crowded into the Grove Hill intersection and could be seen clearly in the lights of the police car cherry tops. They yelled things like "let pumpkins free" and "senior power."

Parking my car at the bottom of the hill, I trekked to the top just in time to see the first pumpkin fly. A cheer went up from the crowd as the round, orange gourd hit the pavement with a mighty splatt! Another followed, and another.

The premature start to the roll was quieted by the pumpkiners' ring-leader, a stocky-looking fellow in a plaid shirt, pumpkin-stained jeans and a stocking cap. His comments cannot be quoted here but the gist was "Knock it off until you sign in with the police officer because if you don't they won't let us roll the pumpkins and I'll be the only one thrown in the slammer!"

2:48 a.m. — Police negotiations concluded, ground rules laid and names taken, the roll began as the first Blazer pulled into position its backend facing downhill. Suddenly, the tailgate opened and the thump, thump could be heard as pumpkins rolled out, hit the pavement, split and slid.

2:49 a.m. — A second truck, a third and a fourth rolled into view kin-soaked young man says to another as they head toward their cars in the Stepnorth parking garage. "Yeh," the second fellow answers. "And you know something? It was very educational. We learned something about physics."

Thursday, Nov. 3, 8 a.m. — The hill is back to normal as rush hour traffic hits its peak. With the exception of a few telltale rinds, it's hard to tell that anything went on there the night.

Street department workers have done their job well. Pumpkin Roll 1983 is ... dum, dee, dum, dum ... history.

Tiger Defense Tops in League

Varsity Football

The Varsity Football team encountered a frustrating but exciting season this year. They were, by far, a better team than the 4-6 record indicated. In the five league losses, Chagrin never lost by more than six points. The Tigers played a great game against Solon but wound up short on the scoreboard 12-7. These close games continued through the end of the season. The Tigers were denied victory with 58 seconds left, on a controversial West Geauga touchdown in the final game of the season.

Although the Tigers were outweighed and outmanned, they never gave up and played with enormous pride for themselves and Chagrin. The awesome Tiger defense was number one in the Chagrin Valley Conference, giving up an average of only six points per game. "This 1983 team, led by eighteen seniors, played with more heart and desire than any team I ever coached at Chagrin Falls", remarked Coach Piai. "We were in every game until the last second and thoughts of quitting never appeared. The seniors, juniors, and sophomores on the 1983 squad are to be complimented on a tremendous season."

J.V. Squad Shows Tiger Strength

Junior Varsity Football

The J.V. Football team played solid football for coaches Matt Chinchar and Dan Ehrenbeit this year. The Tiger defense played exceptionally well while the offense struggled, but improved throughout the season. The team played well together and proved they are ready for the varsity season next year. The J.V.'s were led by juniors Chip Chard, Mack McFarland, Pete Goldman, and Eric Anderson. Sophomores included Bruce Campbell, Scott Banda, Judd Vilardo and Mike Boehringer.

The freshman football team, despite several disadvantages, fought hard throughout the long season. Led by coaches Jack Stanton and Bill Morgan, the team constantly battled much larger opponents.

The team consisted of only 21 players and no more than eighteen players suited at one time. Times were tough, but the Tiger freshmen showed great spirit by never giving up. The Tigers were led by Lineman Mike Orazen and Bob Dahl and running backs Marty Weber and Mike Durkee.

Cross Country

This year's Cross Country Team was small, but the few were all dedicated runners. The guys, coached by John Hurst, had another strong showing, very impressive for what was supposed to be a "rebuilding year". Senior Jeff Ferguson, junior Tom Asplin and sophomore Eric Whitelaw consistently finished as the top runners. Seniors Jon Schindler and Pete Hyde and juniors Ken Koprowski and Trey Reinhard provided additional support to the team that finished second in the CVC. Chris Payne, Bo Beaven and Chris Stanek also braved the brutal season. Tom and Eric both qualified for Districts. The girls had an especially small team which made it difficult to place well in large invitationals. Led by seniors Jill Neuger and Kelly Shanklin, they exhibited a great amount of spirit and worked hard under Coach Dave Quesinberry. Freshman Debbie Stanek was a welcome addition, supported by classmates B.K. Beaven, Kiersten Davey and junior Margo Stanton.

Varsity Tennis

Sectionals, Districts and on to State, the Varsity Tennis Team served up a sensational season, placing first in the Chagrin Valley Conference Tournament, second in the Chagrin Falls Invitational, third in State sectionals, and second in the Districts. The first doubles team of Julie Gottschalk and Mary Jane Lorentz went on to represent Chagrin in the State Tournament in Columbus.

Playing singles for Chagrin was Julie Gottschalk, Darla Wall, and Catie Harvey. Tracy DeCroce and Mary Jane Lorentz played first doubles, and Carey Cordes and Molly Dishong played second.

Cordes and Dishong were selected second doubles on the all NEOTA Team. Named to the All CVC Team were Julie Gottschalk at singles; Mary Jane Lorentz and Tracy Decroce at doubles; Carey Cordes and Molly Dishong at doubles. A first place finish in second doubles was awarded to Molly Dishong and Tracy Decroce at the Chagrin Falls Invitational Tournament.

"Coach of the Year", Carolyn Hanson was pleased with the team's second place finish in the CVC. The team spent many summer hours working hard to improve and the end result was very successful.

Julie Gottschalk and Mary Jane Lorentz happily answer the reporters questions before their State match.

One Loss Season—A Great One For J.V.

Junior Varsity Tennis

The J.V. Girls Tennis Team had a tremendously successful season, ending with a fabulous 12 win—1 loss record. The girls only loss came early on to the tough Hathaway Brown Team. Strong performances were turned in by Joelle London, Tracy Carpenter, Laura Stevenson, Megan Hanley, Heidi Weiker, and Amy Brooks. The Team took a second place at the Brush Invitational. Individual honors went to Joelle London—First Singles Winner; Amy Brooks—Runner-Up; Laura Stevenson, Megan Hanley and Heidi Weiker reached the quarter finals. The Team outscored their opponents in matches 48 to 16. Coach Barbara Mullady—Rinder, did a great job as a first year coach, and the Team should remain strong with many underclassmen returning.

They started the season without
A coach for the J.V.
They hunted and hunted
And finally found me.

Being a softy,
What could I do?
Reduce the laps
And run just two.

The baseline game they loved,
And yet,
How could we get them to Come to the net?

They practiced their serves
And volleyed the ball
Won their matches,
Well . . . NEARLY all.

I looked over this
So-called team.
Pulled my hair
And wanted to scream.

During the season
They gave their best.
Isn't this the Real test.

I said, "Before each practice
We'll run a mile."
They peered at me
With a knowing smile.

When I took this task
I questioned my reason.
Now I know.
Thank you girls,
For a WONDERFUL season.

My ankles, my knees.
It makes me tired.
It makes me wheeze.

Congratulations to the Chagrin Falls Golf Team, led by Coach Bob Hensel, for another successful season. The team topped their scoring record from last season. The team's match record of 9-1-2 was good enough for a second place finish in the CVC.

In addition, the Golf Team played extremely well outside the league. They won the Districts for the first time in the history of the Team, by placing individuals in the first three spots. Co-medalists were Sven "Golly" Nielson and Bill "Boy Wonder" Bierman with 78's and James "Splitty" Zetwick close behind with a 79. Rob "The Buzzard" Busby and Chris "Lester" Zetwick also contributed greatly to the effort.

At Districts, "Golly" Nielson continued his great play by shooting a First Place 75 to qualify for the State Tournament. The Team finished in fourth place.

Chagrin also placed two players on the All-League Squad. "Boy Wonder" Bierman was First Team and "Golly" Nielson was on the Second Team All-League.

Varsity Soccer Reaches State Final Four

Varsity "A and B" Soccer

Proving once again to be a dominant force in Northeast Ohio, the Varsity "A" Soccer Team completed an exceptional season. Through a very tough and long season they compiled an excellent 18-3-2 record. Led by Coach Mario Gerhardt, the Tiger kickers captured not only the CVC Crown but also were State Semi-Finalists. The extremely strong defense allowed no more than two goals per game (excluding the tough St. Charles game) and recorded a remarkable eight shutouts. Special honors this season went to Jack Schmidt, Second Team All-Ohio, First Team Greater Cleveland All Stars and First Team CVC. Jeff Pinkett received Honorable Mention Greater Cleveland All Stars and First Team CVC. Darren Wyville was the First Team CVC Goalie, while Bob Darden and Dave Pearce made the Second Team. The spirited following of cheerleaders, fans and parents was a big factor to the Team's success. Senior starters Jack Schmidt, Jeff Pinkett, Dave Pearce and Matt Hanley will be missed next year, but the other eight remaining underclassmen should guarantee another outstanding team in 1984.

Varsity "B" Soccer

Coach Don Wem's Varsity "B" Soccer Team played hard throughout a very tough schedule. Playing strong teams like Gilmour Varsity, Hawken Varsity, and North Olmsted "B". The Team compiled a record of 5 wins, 8 losses and 1 tie. Tom Foley was the leading scorer, with 13 goals. Strong performances were also turned in by Ken Juergens, Henry Bruner, and seniors, Dan Revelle, Brian Moore, Toby Hansen, and John Carpenter. An unexpected asset to the Team was our exchange student from Japan, Hideo Fukvoaka. This strong "B" Team showed Chagrin's need for an additional varsity soccer team.

Volleyball Serves Up a Good Season

Varsity Volleyball

The varsity volleyball team had a record of 10-10 this season. They had a lot of good players ranging in many skills. Everyone worked well together making it an exciting year. There were no exceptional players—everyone had their own skill and worked hard at it. Coach Sandra Dean certainly had a team to be proud of this season.

Boys' Hoops Are Tough

Boys' Varsity Basketball

Above: Chris MacPherson and the big Lairdo work up quite a sweat in this practice.

Led by a strong senior fire and supported by a few exceptional juniors, the 1983-84 boys' Varsity Basketball team finished with a respectable 10-10 regular season record and a fourth place in the C.V.C. The squad, despite their record, played each team tough and had a defensive average of 53.7 points per game. Head Coach Glenn Wyville remarked, "The team worked hard, but I had hoped for more improvement toward the end. We were a little too inconsistent on offense and that hurt us in the close games. In all, we were very competitive and tournament success looks good."

Led by the coaching of Dave Quesinberry, the Tigers handily won the majority of their games. With an equal amount of Juniors and Sophomores on the squad, a balance of finesse and strength was attained. Most members should see alot of action next year on the Varsity team.

After winning only two games in the past season, the Tigers' improved tremendously over the summer and returned to gather ten victories and a second place finish in the league. Paced by six key players, Coach Gary Nelson's Freshmen surprised almost everyone with their excellent 10-4 record. Capping off their exciting season was a championship in the Berkshire Freshman Tournament. Brian Bargar and Josh Gibbs were awarded spots on the All-Tournament team for their great efforts.

The 1983-84 Varsity Girls' Basketball Team turned in another strong season finishing the regular season with an impressive 18-2 record. Additionally, they were undefeated in a competitive CVC for the first time in four years. The Team coached by 1982-83 AA Coach-of-the-year, Bob Ohlrich, also destroyed area non-league rivals Canfield and Mentor. The only losses came in a talent-packed Christmas Tournament held at Columbus Bishop Watterson to two teams ranked highly state-wide. The Tigers also received respect from a state-wide panel of coaches, being ranked sixth much of the year and ending the season ranked fifth in the state. The Team was led by starters; Senior Janet Ward, and Juniors Nancy Fitz, Heather Bannerman, and Tracy Carpenter. Seniors Liane Harsh and Julie Shaffer rotated in for the fifth starting position. Others who contributed a great deal and started several games were Juniors Cathy Clegg, Heidi Exline, and Julie Kinloch. The team got off to a good start in the Tournaments crushing sectional opponents Orange 59-20 and Fairview 57-32. The Lady Tigers are on their way to proving they deserve the title of Best in the State.

J.V. Tigers Capture League Title

Girls' J.V. Basketball

The J.V. huddle seems pretty relaxed.

Coach Carl Forbush's J.V. Tigers were yet another surprise in Chagrin Falls winter sports. The purpose of the Junior Varsity Team is to allow more girls to participate in an interscholastic sport. It also prepares the girls for the competition at the varsity level. The J.V. girls put forth a lot of effort into having a good season and they proved it with their 15-3 record and a first place in the C.V.C. They showed a lot of enthusiasm and good sportsmanship throughout the season. Their pride and dedication was a definite asset. Nevertheless, the experience of the sophomores was the key to the J.V.'s success and the strong freshman should keep this team at the top.

In spite of having Dick Phend, an experienced and enthusiastic coach, join the C.F.H.S. coaching staff this year, the Gymnastics Team was not as successful as they had hoped to be at the beginning of the season. Plagued by a change of coaches each year, the team improved as the season progressed, but were unable to gain the winning edge. They worked hard as a team, learned a number of new stunts and had a lot of fun. The young team should undoubtedly improve over the next few seasons.

This winter, Chagrin kicked off its first-time-ever swimming season. The Girls' team was composed of about fifteen swimmers and one diver. Training three or four nights a week at University School, the team left a mark which will not be forgotten. During the course of the season the Tigers met in head-to-head competition with such established teams as Hawken and Shaker Heights. Despite transportation problems, they traveled to faraway places like Hudson and Maple Heights. The successful record of 5-2 belies the determination, dedication, and sheer brute strength of our swimmers. And lastly, we must not forget the two coaches, Sue Gottschalk and Sue Lamancusa, who so eagerly and helpfully volunteered their time to help make the team the best that they could be.

The '83-'84 Wrestling Team had an exceptional season despite what the record showed. Overall, in dual competition, the 5-5 team was led by 4 seniors, 8 sophomores and 1 freshman. The four starting seniors, Dave Cosentino, Geoff Sutcliffe, Mike Maroney and Tim Porter were a great inspiration to the team, needed for the improvement of the wrestlers and the squad in the years to come. Their dedication to the sport, continuous success, and good nature of the four was left behind for the young wrestling teams to follow. The underclassmen are eagerly looking forward to avenge their defeats. Coach Ponikvar should be congratulated on this fine team and successful season.

The Freshman Wrestling Team, with only eight of fourteen weight classes filled through the entire season, still managed to have an average season, ending with a record of 3-4. Coach Larry Arnold and his wrestlers worked very hard during the season to improve each individual and this labor paid off in the end.

Recently, Chagrin changed post offices. The original one, built in 1938-39, became too small and after a great deal of controversy over its design and location, the new post office opened this summer on Washington Street.
