STUDENT LIFE

FAREWELL

September greeted us with a torn up patio and a devastated science wing. We had to negotiate with piles of dirt, dust, noise, and improvised science labs. We toured around construction machinery, building supplies, plumbers, carpenters, electricians, and excavators. Gradually, out of the chaos of construction emerged the school's striking new facade and the renaissance of the science wing. We were there to see it happen . . . every single day!

During those agonizingly slow days of construction, our pride was boosted with the National Award for Excellence in Education which honored our school as one of the best in the nation. We were proud, even if some of us didn't want to show it. It made us feel good about our school, and about ourselves.

While changes were going around about us, and we busied ourselves with our studies, and activities, and friends, the world about us was being transformed in a way that no one would have ever dreamed possible. 1989-1990 would truly be a time for all to remember.

This yearbook has attempted to capture some of those memories of the past school year. As we move upward into the 90's, many of us bound for college, Zenith will always be there to remind us of that remarkable year of growth, change, and pride.

Bound for Better Days

A major cause of concern, grief, and joy this past year has been the seemingly perpetual construction and renovations that are occurring at the high school. When all is said and done, the cost for the construction at the high school alone will exceed 1.4 million dollars and for the entire district, 4.25 million. As Superintendent Arlene Reiger fittingly remarked in reference to the numerous delays, "We cannot spend 4.25 million dollars wisely in three months."

The construction to the high school basically involved three general areas: The grandstand, the foyer and the science wing. In the original timetable, the science wing was to have been completed by the opening of the school year in August, of 1989, but due to delays regarding permits in Columbus, actual work did not begin until July and August. As for the grandstand, again, it was to be completed in the summer in order to be ready for the football season, but delays with permits also impeded its progress. The science wing was to be completed during the summer and into the fall, but those nasty delays struck once again, and it finally was completed in early February. Principal Dr. Trusso's hopes to have all of the construction completed by the end of the first semester so that the seniors could enjoy the last semester of the senior year construction-free, were basically realized as the science wing opened in early February.

Perhaps the biggest part of the renovations was the updating of the science wing. These renovations were the most time-consuming and extensive. The entire wing was torn out, and new lab equipment and facilities was installed. The Chemistry lab was relocated and the Biology lab was also renovated. A new science research library was constructed and the offices were carpeted and relocated in the old Bio room with this library.

The grandstand phase of the construction basically gave the old stadium a facelift. Construction workers sand-blasted the old paint off and rebuilt the worn areas of the stadium. Several coats of paint were then applied and the stadium was ready for the third week of the season.

The other major phase of the renovations consisted of the construction of a new foyer, an outside patio area, and a turnaround.

Although the renovations to the high school have seemed to take forever and were a hardship to all, the changes to the high school will be appreciated. It will be a welcome change to the building that we students spend 25% of our lives in.

What Makes Up C.F.H.S.

Let's face it guys—who would come to school if it weren't for the people? Nobody, that's who. There's not that much else worth coming for. Classes . . . hah! It's your pals, your homes, your little cluster of buddies around the lunch table that drives you through the school doors each day and sends you home in one, still sane, piece. Even beyond your little circle of buds the people are what excite you, terrify you, arouse you, frustrate you, and make your C.F.H.S. day.

And, while we're on the subject, what about the people here at good ol' C.F.H.S.? Are they worth getting up in the morning for? Depends on who you ask, I guess. I did: the question I posed to many of the people I saw one day what adjective they would use if asked to sum up the entire C.F.H.S. body in one word. What did they say? Stuck-up. Disrespectful. Social. Into their own little cliques. Determined. Limited. Over-protected. Taking for granted what they have. Unmotivated. Talented. Self centered. Egotistical. Lackadaisical. Friendly.

But, frankly, my question was unfair: summing up 400 living, breathing, human beings in one word? Impossible! You see, you can't lump together a group of people and tack a label onto them just because they're from the same background. . .the same social status. . .the same school.

Today we tend to be order-retentive demanding that each action, each person, have his own neat little label. This is most true in high school. "What is that person like?" The answer: Jock. Nerd. Bimbo. Moron. Spaz. Thrasher. Stoner. Dude Ridiculous, folks! The wonderful thing about people is how they refuse to be molded and kneaded into one, distinct category. . .invariably, they'll break out in one way or another. No one fits a single pattern alone.

What makes each person special—each person worth coming to school for is that everyone is different! The next few pages of this yearbook is not a jumbled mosaic of a "student body" or a "class", but an anthology of individuals. . .each and every one of them.

So remember that each time you open this yearbook people are what makes up Chagrin Falls High School, good or bad. Not the building. Not the courses. PEOPLE! And if you don't like it, good or bad, remember you're part of "the people" too. Are you friendly? Lackadaisical? Unmotivated? You made a difference to these people just as they made a difference to you. You're your high school. GOOD or BAD.

Most people think that the sophomore year is not the most exciting year of high school, well for this class it is different. Our class has got the drive and motivation that it takes to make up a terrific class. This year we have successfully sold the mums for the 1989 Homecoming. Next we went on to organize the selling of class rings, and then we went on to hold a profitable "Woodstock" class dance. Our class is not only successful from the student council members, but also the cooperation of the class as a whole. This is what is needed to make the future of our class one to remember.

WE MISSED YOU

Reasons abound as to why people don't make connection with the photographer on "picture day", and consequently miss their niche in the year-book. Among the reasons: "I was out that day", "Had to take tests all days", "Teacher wouldn't let me out of study hall, (or class!)", "No free time," "I didn't look good that day", or "I forgot". Then there is always the possibility that the editor, or whoever, just misplaced your photo. Whatever the reason, the Zenith staff has included these two pages to accomodate those students and teachers who were missed.

Up on Excellence

In the fall of 1988, our school submitted a thirty page report prepared by the students, staff, and the community to become recognized as one of the finest schools in the country. This entry was then sent to the State Department of Education as the first step towards national recognition. Chagrin Falls High School was then selected as one of the twenty-three schools for outstanding achievement by the state of Ohio, and our application went to Washington D.C. for consideration for national recognition. In the spring of 1989, the National

Department of Education selected Chagrin Falls High School out of several thousand nominations to be a candidate for excellence in education. A national review panel was sent to study Chagrin and find out if the school excelled in areas such as leadership, teaching and learning environments, institutional vitality, and parent and community support.

On May 8, 1989, Chagrin Falls High School was notified that it was selected as one of 218 schools to be recognized nationally in the fall of 1989, at Washington D.C. Out of the 218 schools selected, 176 were public and 42 were private schools. Only 35% of these schools were selected for national recognition, and only six schools were from Ohio.

With this award, three high school representatives were sent to accept the award in Washington. The representatives were, Mr. Ohlrich, high school math teacher; Liz Youngberg, student council president; and Dr. James Trusso, high school principal.

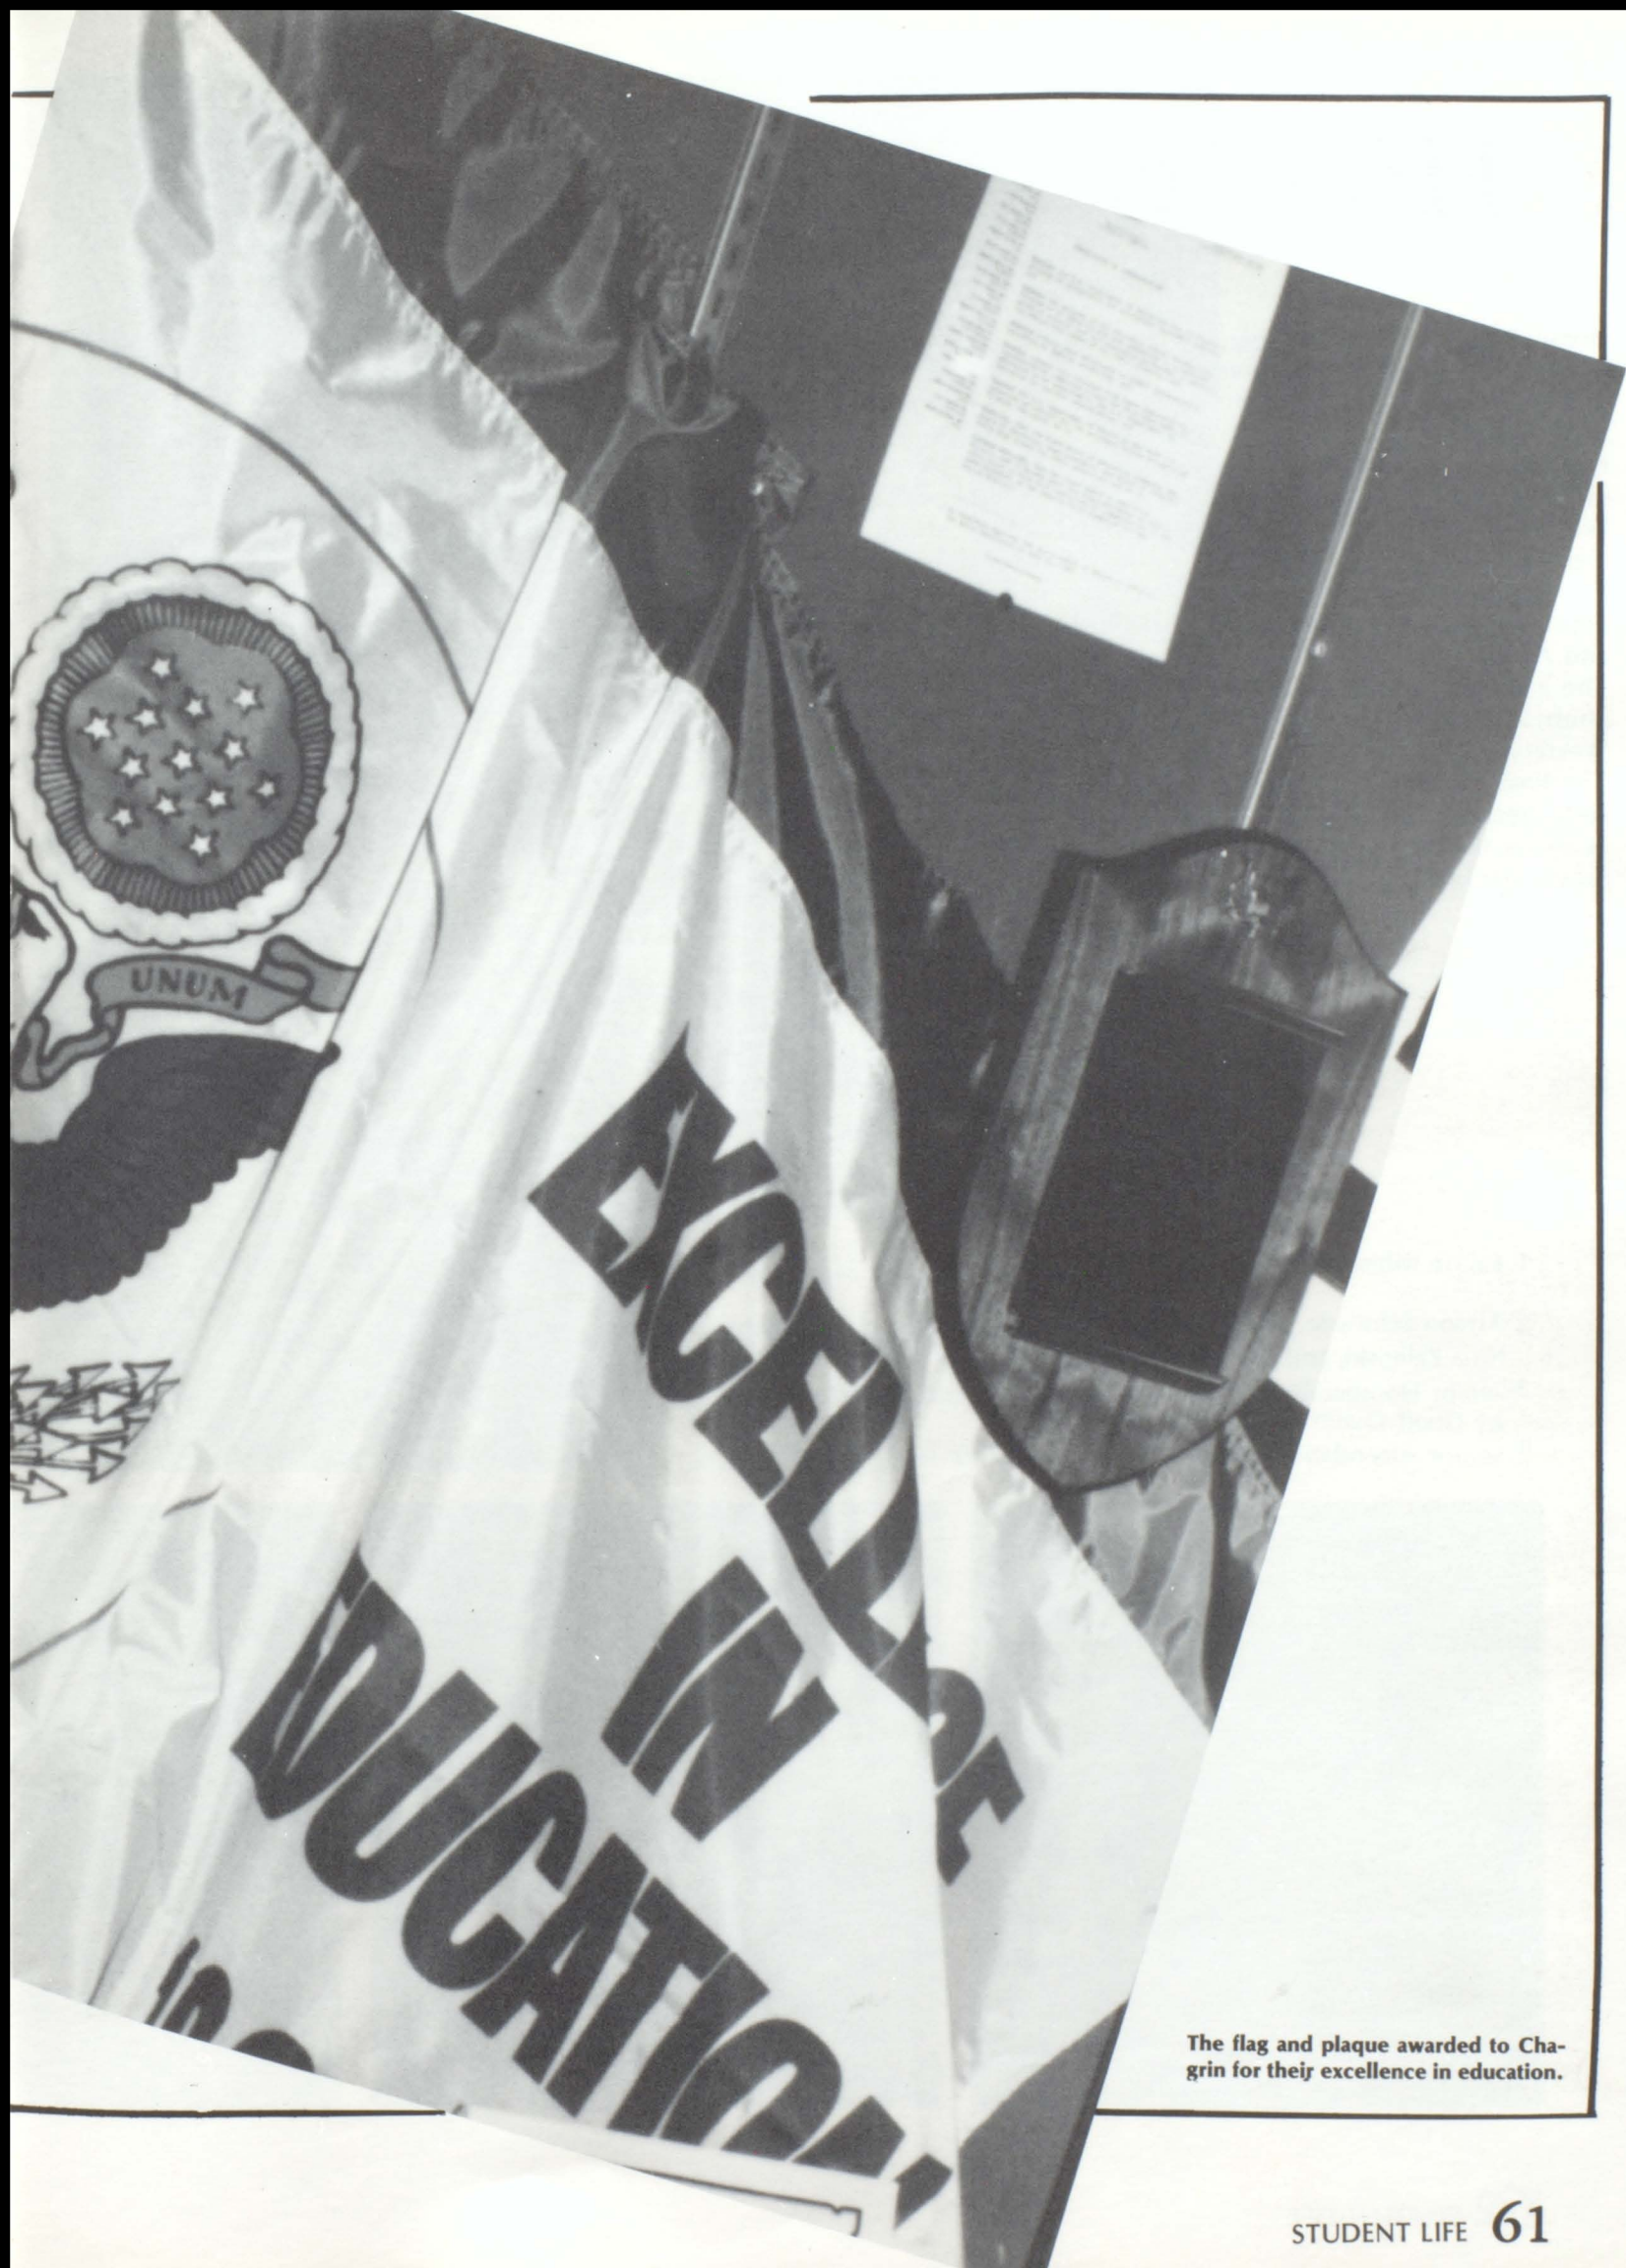

As an additional recognition, Ohio's First Lady, Dagmar Celeste, came to award the students at Chagrin on Monday December 10, 1989, in the gym. Through the snow, Mrs. Celeste awarded the student body and faculty with a plaque and flag. Both of these awards are displayed at school. Along with the First Lady, Chagrin's School Board and the mayors and officials of the municipalities which comprise the district attended the ceremony. Students at Chagrin were also awarded with a day at the Movies. The morning started off with breakfast for the Juniors and Seniors and then the whole school went to the Chagrin Cinema 6. the Freshman and Sophomores saw Back to the Future II, and the Juniors and Seniors saw National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation. The day ended at eleven and the students were released for winter break.

*"Sanctuary,
enter
at your own risk!"*

The flag and plaque awarded to Chagrín for their excellence in education.

Homecoming

Homecoming is always the biggest weekend of the year. 1989 proved to be no different. The activities of the weekend commenced Thursday with the parade, pep rally, and bonfire. The bonfire sparkled up the autumn night as it was one of the largest ever. (It burned until Saturday morning.)

Friday's festivities included the tailgate party, The Big Game, and the crowning of the homecoming queen. Spirits were high after the pregame tailgate party as everyone was up for the big game. However, reality returned as the gridders were defeated soundly against mammoth arch-rival Solon. The excitement of the evening was, as always, halftime with the presentation of the queen and her court. This year's nominees for queen included Amy Lawrence, Meghan Dustin, and Alyson Schwartz. To everyone's surprise, Meghan was crowned queen. The activities refused to cease as the Tiger booters took the field Saturday afternoon for their homecoming soccer game against future state champion Westerville South. The team turned in a valiant performance, but fell short. The final chapter of the weekend, the Homecoming Dance, culminated the festivities. As usual, the dance was enjoyed by some and loathed by others. But, as always, the dance provided the school with gossip for weeks to come. For the most part, Homecoming was a fabulous weekend that was enjoyed by all.

WINTER FORMAL

The Winter Formal Dance occurred at the high school in early December. Truly, the dance proved to be an experience that will be remembered by all. Senior Gabe Orazen reigned over the dance as he was overwhelmingly elected as King. Music in Motion provided the score for the dance, themed "Mistletoe Magic" by the cheerleaders. As always, this dance had its share of crying girls and disappointed guys but, overall, it was an experience enjoyed by most everyone.

Fall's Footlighters

Floods, adultery, psychotic offspring, the Ice Age, world wars, despair at life's meaninglessness and the apathy of the ages . . . These dilemmas and more, the ultra-human Antrobuses and their all-purpose utility maid, Sabina, have survived, are surviving and will always survive . . . even if by The Skin of Our Teeth. Thornton Wilder's historical, philosophical, and lotsa other "ideals" comedy, is considered by many too deep and too difficult for a high school production. But with a lot of exhausting, frustrating, nail-biting effort, we pulled off a great show. What we got out of this terrific, brilliant play is more than enough reward . . . after all, where else can you see man's struggle played out in just three acts, with actors breaking characters on purpose, hasty last-minute rehearsals during the performance and dinosaurs sharing the stage with Atlantic City lifeguards? Besides, it answers such significant, earth-shattering questions as . . . Why do we struggle for life when we know death is our only reward? Was Hitler a sympathetic individual? Will men and women always betray each other? Will there be an end to human conflict? And, of course, are beef cubes REALLY worth crying over?

CVC Up In the Air

A question that has become an issue this year has been Chagrin's involvement in the CVC. The question arises if Chagrin should stay in the league or join the Metropolitan Athletic Conference, a league of schools that are more Chagrin's size. When the CVC was first chartered in 1964, Chagrin was the largest school in the conference. But now, and for the past few years, the tables have turned, and Chagrin is the smallest school.

While there is no consensus among the coaches and teachers concerning Chagrin's continuing involvement in the CVC, it seems that the only reason that some may wish to leave the CVC is to foster a competitive athletic program among smaller schools. In other words should Chagrin continue to be a little fish in a big pond, or should we move and become a big fish in a small pond?

On the other hand, some feel that Chagrin faces serious injuries in sports such as football where we compete against bigger athletes. They argue that Chagrin is simply outnumbered in the CVC and therefore we should compete in a conference that contains schools more our size. Along these lines, another proposal that seems more feasible and practical entails partial participation in the CVC where some of the athletic teams play an independent schedule and others play a CVC schedule. This solution would appease those who feel that our athletes face serious injuries if we continue to play against schools like Solon that are twice our size. This proposal would also satisfy those coaches and parents that of other sports teams that want to stay in the CVC.

But our participation in the CVC does not stop at the athletic teams. Many other groups in our school participate in CVC events and activities. Such groups include the band, the choir, student council, and the Academic Challenge team. Thus, the question arises: If Chagrin were to leave the CVC in the athletic capacity, would we leave in other capacities as well, or would those groups continue to participate in CVC events? Or would we cease participation entirely? These and other questions need to be answered in order to find a solution to this issue.

Sports at Chagrin are an integral part of everyday life.

Whether we continue to compete in the CVC or if we move to another conference, the tradition of excellence that has been established over the past years will no doubt continue for years to come.

Varsity Football perseveres to 1-9 season

The 1989 Varsity Football team worked hard all year and struggled to a 1-9 record. The team, however, demonstrated great intensity and character despite having only 30 men on the team. The team's goal, according to Coach Piai, was to "take one step at a time and play every game tough and let the chips fall as they may." A winning attitude such as this will warrant success in the future for these men.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team, under second year coach Pete Olah, miled their way to another outstanding season. The girls team, led by Captain Liz Youngberg, qualified for Districts and were just two points shy of going to state as a team, compiling a respectable 12-2 record. All CVC honors were extended to Courtney Michael and Shawn Conley with Honorable Mention awards to Liz and Tiggy Hopkins. For the boys, Captain Andrew Rostette again qualified for the state championship tournament, and finished second with both the second fastest time run in all divisions of the tourney and a personal best. Andrew was also voted MVP of the CVC among other honors. Doug Sockman and John Meyer also received Honorable Mention awards in leading the boys team to a 5-10 record.

Women's Tennis wins CVC, Gibbs qualifies again

The 1989 Varsity Women's Tennis team had one of its best seasons ever. Co-captained by Anne Clark and Nancy Schoenherr, the lady netters dominated the CVC. The captains comprised the first doubles team, and lost only twice all season in qualifying for Districts. Sophomore sensation Karis Gibbs continued to astound critics as she again qualified for the state tournament by virtue of a first place finish at Districts. Karis was also chosen as MVP of the CVC. Karis was joined by Nancy, Laurie Kihlstrom and Katie LaCroix who each earned second team honors. With Karis returning, the team should contend for the State title in 1990.

A SOCCER STRUGGLES

Booters endure brutal schedule

The Varsity Men's Soccer team, as always loaded with tremendous talent but plagued by injuries, went 8-9-4 against a brutal schedule. Playing against both the Division 1 state champions and the runners-up as well as many other good teams, the team displayed great character nonetheless. Led by All Ohio captain Doug Gier and First Team All CVC utilityman Ed O'Malley, the team improved tremendously throughout the season until losing to University School in the Sectional Final. Highlights of the year included a 1-0 win over state ranked Brecksville and a 1-0 win over mammoth Shaker Heights. Captained by Mike Zaretsky, the 1990 team will be a contender in the state.

Girls' Soccer Team

The Varsity Girls Soccer Team, playing in their third season, struggled to a 3-7-4 record. The team is still building under second year head coach Ruth McLatchie. Captained by Beth Goodwin and Tricia Kihlstrom, the team's future goal was to improve our team as whole. Honors for this years team were awarded to Beth Goodwin who earned Greater Cleveland All Scholastic Honors. Led by Juniors Sally Florkiewicz, Kelly Redding, Amy Llewellyn and Molly McMonagle, the team will be a force in the future.

The Varsity Wrestling Team had an outstanding team in their way to a second place CVC finish. New head coach Don Wem has inherited a tremendously talented team. Led by Tri-Captains Matt Durbin, Gabe Orazen and Todd Desberg, the Tigers compiled a 10-2 dual meet record with a 6-1 CVC mark. The team also ended an eleven year drought against arch-rival Kenston in beating the bombers 32-30. Highlights of the year thus far include second place finishes at both the Richmond Heights and Brecksville Tournaments and a first place finish at the Chagrin Falls Invitational. At press time, the Tigers were preparing for the State Tournaments and hold high hopes. "Our goal is to win the Sectional Championship and take it from there," remarks Coach Wem. With this sort of winning attitude, these Tigers are sure to enjoy success both on and off the Wrestling mat.

The Gymnastics Team, loaded with talent but few on numbers, has had a fine season, compiling an undefeated mark in the CVC. Led by Seniors Nina Zalenski and Ingrid Leusch, this group of ladies have already tumbled their way to a new school record for points scored in a dual meet. Returning State qualifier Rachel Freshman has contributed greatly to the Tiger's success. Only a sophomore, Freshman generally wins the all-around and her experience and poise help everyone around her. Coach Pat Witucky should be in Columbus come March, along with these fine ladies.

Swim Team Splashes to Victory

The Swim Team has worked diligently all year in splashing their way to a 9-4 record. Led by Senior Co-Captains Julie Bowe and Tracy Varnum, the team has performed extremely well in competitions and is improving daily. Coach Wally Lutkas, in his inaugural season at Chagrin Falls, has instilled a tough work ethic in the girls as practices go as long as two hours per day. At press time, the team was training for the upcoming District meet and all have high expectations.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Boys Basketball team endured through yet another "rebuilding" season. Led by Seniors Mike Salyers, Louis D'Ambrosia, and Jamie Kessel, the team was basically outnumbered by its opponents, adding credence to the belief that Chagrin should leave the CVC. Coach Dave Kirk, in his second season, battled problems with morale all season. At press time, the team was struggling, and had yet to win a game. The Tigers, though, still have held their heads high, proving that they are still winners

The Girls Basketball team has had an outstanding year. At press time, the Lady Tigers had just completed the CVC portion of the regular season schedule, clinching the CVC title with a 16-2 record. Seniors Tricia Kihlstrom, Laurie Kihlstrom and Anne Clark have led the Tigers to this success. Currently, the Tigers are ranked 14th in the state and are preparing for the upcoming tournament action and have high hopes. # SPIKERS REBUILD

The Varsity Volleyball team, under new head coach Todd Vosgerichian and assistant coach Heidi Exline, had a respectable season. Hampered by poor facilities due to the construction, the team maintained its poise and character throughout the season. Captained by Stephanie Vosgerichian (2nd Team CVC) and also led by Junior Dina Biscotti (1st Team CVC) the team compiled an 8-16 record. The team demonstrated excellent athletic ability but lacked height. As coach Vosgerichian noted, "pound for pound, inch for inch, we have as much talent as any other team." Returning letterwomen for 1990 include Dina. Alicia Cottone and Julie Reidy will lead the team into the 1990s.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Academic Break Up

Clubs and organizations at Chagrin provide an integral part of student life. Students are presented with an opportunity to break the classroom routine and exercise the need to be dynamic, competitive, and independent. At Chagrin, 350 students out of 452 participate in the clubs and organizations provided.

Along with being a major part of student academics, involvement in clubs offers a variety of views to their members. One such view is that of our press and our rights as citizens in the United States.

The clubs that achieve this goal are Tiger Times, Zenith, and Debate/Speech. In these clubs, students learn to express themselves, and they learn how far their expression can go. The Tiger Times, and Zenith, show students how to exercise freedom of the press and its responsibilities, while Speech/Debate teaches the students freedom of speech and what that freedom means.

Foreign language clubs are another aspect of school life. In these clubs the students learn how to use what they have learned in the classroom and apply it to life in the real world. Conversations in a foreign language outside the classroom better prepares the student in that language. The foreign language clubs also show students what life in other countries is really like, not the fairy tale that textbook publishers often like to show. The foreign language clubs help reveal this reality.

Other clubs at Chagrin Falls like P.A. Announcer's, Library Aides, and Office Aides, provide students with first-hand experience on how the school is run. The students learn what life behind the scenes at C.F.H.S. is really all about while providing useful, and beneficial services to the school.

Clubs in our school also provide the students with leadership skills they may use in their careers. Clubs such as Student Council and the Principal's Advisory Committee, offer students a chance to try out leadership activities that could be used later in life in managerial positions that require working with a large number of people. Clubs like these also allow the students to take charge and let them handle some of the political problems that may arise within the school.

Service clubs such as S.A.D.D., Peer Care, and T.I. provide its members with a chance to help alleviate community as well as worldwide social problems.

Without clubs, Chagrin just would not be Chagrin . . .

Chagrin's school newspaper, the Tiger Times, provides students with information on school events and news. Advised by Mr. May, the Times covers basically anything that goes on during the year. Due to a successful advertising campaign, the Times is able to distribute copies of the monthly newspaper for free. Edited by Dave Blair, Heather Bruce, and Rob Freshman, the Times covers topics as controversial as abortion, dating, date rape, and suicide. The Tiger Times both entertains and informs students throughout the school year.

Adding to the success of the Tiger Times is the quality of the staff. This past year several Chagrin scribes were inducted into the Quill and Scroll, an international journalism society including Dave Blair, Heather Bruce, Melissa Pieramici, Katie Hays, Rob Freshman, and Chrissie Baker. The Tiger Times clearly possess the quality of excellence that Chagrin is known for.

ZENITH copy editor Matt Durbin proofs a layout.

The Zenith staff worked very hard this year to bring you a yearbook that is on time and under budget. Planning for this years yearbook began when co-editors Heather Wells and Kirk Taylor, along with advisor Leonard Balk, attended an intensive three-day yearbook workshop at Hiram College in August. Each day during the school year the yearbook staff would meet second period to deal with the awesome task of selling ads, selling yearbooks, taking pictures, writing articles, doing layouts, and trying to meet the ever-impending deadlines. The result, of course, is what you see in front of you. So ten years from now, you can pick this book up, dust it off, and remember what we looked like, what we did, and what was important to us way back in the year 1990 when we were so much younger.

The two editors Heather Wells and Kirk Taylor over some last minute layouts.

Justin VanSkyhock, stop smiling. We have a deadline to meet.

Tracy Growth laughs at other peoples pictures.

Megan Ferguson finishes another fine sports layout.

Are We Ready?

Each year was different, but all are cyclical. In kindergarten, we were the littlest and smallest fish in the pond. First grade brought on more freedom, but also, a new concept—homework. "Quiz" taught us gym and we used these new-found skills during recess. Second grade meant learning new math and how to spell. Third grade was a chaotic year; we discovered the opposite sex. Fourth grade meant changing classes. Fifth grade—what a year! Art of Personal Living (Sex ed 101) and being kings of the hill. They were all highlights of the year. But we tumbled fast. In sixth grade we were suddenly the little kids on the block again as we moved to the Middle School. Sixth grade also taught us how to act at dances and how to deal with our favorite teacher, venth Grade was another fulfilling year, and it was the first year that we could play school sports. Eighth grade was the Washington trip and our first graduation. Before we knew it, we were Freshmen. We were finally high school students, an experience that will never be forgotten. The girls had new boyfriends and the guys discovered their tremendous singing abilities. Sophomore year, like its definition, was a lame year. But, driving to school was a major plus (as well as sneaking out to McDonalds for lunch.) Junior year meant PSAT's, Prom, and, finally we were upperclassmen. But along with this power came the headaches of college hunting and taking the SAT's and ACT's. Physics with Hensel tested our stamina, but Ponikvar's isms always enlightened the day. At year's end we were starting to get excited. Soon WE WERE SENIORS. We had worked our way up and down the ladder for twelve years, and now we were finally at the top. What a relief! As always, the year flew by and now we are approaching the end . . . What will we remember this year by?

Mr. McGarvey. Se-

February was here, and still no snow days!

Reflecting, we'll remember opening week and making Freshman sing. Homecoming came and went with Meghan being crowned Queen. We'll remember having to take the S.A.T.'s and filling out our college applications, and the pumpkin roll.

With winter came the basketball and wrestling seasons, Christmas vacation, and 1990. Before we knew it, February was here and still NO SNOW DAYS!! March meant spring break and basking in the sun of Florida or Texas. OABR was soon to follow along with Prom.

Now, after these thirteen years we are departing. We are about to infiltrate society with our views. Are we ready? or Is society ready?!
