Landing Our Feet on

One of the goals of education in Chagrin Falls has always been to provide us with the means by which we could survive emotionally, physically, and intellectually to the challenges presented to us after high school. For that purpose we wanted to believe that our schools provided us with the very best resources and advantages necessary for our future. We believed that our schools offered us the best coaches, the best faculty, the best technology, the best community support, and the best student body to meet our individual needs. But this year, 1995-1996, wasn't like just any ordinary year at Chagrin Falls High School. From the start it was apparent that there were going to be some bumps along an otherwise smooth road. It was a year that provided challenges even before the year began. First there were a number of new faces in the school, not just a new group of freshmen, who perennially have that challenge of adjusting to high school

Center: This year's district wide spirit assembly gave all students the chance to show off their school spirit in C.S. Harris Stadium. Allowing the entire district to participate, created a positive attitude towards the success of Chagrin athletics. Below: Andy Warnke displays his dancing skills at the homecoming dance celebration. Freshman take note. This kid knows how to dance!

Left: On first morning of the new school year, the high school appears to be in readiness before the arrival of students. Above: The fall school spirit assembly shows C.F.H.S. students enjoying the entertainment. The relay races included Chagrin students from every school level.

Center: These Seniors really get involved in the Fall Spirit Assembly. Matt Gile, Jamie Rockwell, and Matt Schron let their true school spirit show for everyone to see.

Below: This tiger cheerleader pumps up the crowd during the Spirit Assembly. Danielle Masseria's enthusiastic attitude has the Sand's students cheering for the fall sports teams.

Right: This year's football season was greatly anticipated before the beginning of the season. The new coaching staff tried to point the slumping program in a winning direction. This graffiti marked wall shows the excitement the team had about their new season.

Opposite Page Right: Kelley Christian and Tyler Tervo show how they can survive their senior year in high school by landing on their feet.

Opposite Page Far Right: Why is it necessary to be in Commons? "To hit on all the girls!" Will Eaton throws his game on Sarah Cooper during their lunch period by showing her the great moves he has learned over the years.

life, but new teachers as well, who would have to meet the challenge of instruction. Secondly, the school district for the first time in many years found itself in financial difficulties in spite of widespread levy support just one year earlier. Cutbacks were initiated, and changes were made. Many teachers found themselves teaching more students as well as additional classes. In sports, we still found ourselves as the small school (population--534) looking in on a conference of large schools, while realignment of the Chagrin Valley Conference was still a year away. For the major sports of football and basketball, it would be another character building year. In our other sports, we distinguished ourselves by posting successful seasons, while the state ranked girls soccer left their opponents dazed in defeat. In spite of the challenges, we instinctively survived and rose to meet the challenges of this unforgettable year. Just like the cat that falls from a great height-----we landed on our feet.

Seniors

To the Class of 1996

We've made it, my fellow class members, and we finally get the satisfaction of really knowing what it feels like to be graduating seniors. We entered this school not knowing exactly what to expect except that hopefully someday we could be as important as the seniors with whom we jealously watched. We made it through the first week of minor hazing, our first homecoming, our first dreaded finals week, and our bus rides home. (We, of course, had to watch the upperclassmen get into their cars and drive away.) Even though every memory may not have been the best for everyone, the Class of '96 has stuck together. Sure we all had to deal with the clique mentality, and who didn't lose a goodfriend to the moving van? What was important is that we loved being with each other and sharing all the good times and bad times together---the pumpkin roll, prom, OABR, and SATs. (Remember how much fun that day was?) Was our long awaited senior year everything we had expected and had hoped for? We'll never know until we're long gone and can look back and realize the significance of all our experiences. And now as we get into our cars and drive away from Chagrin Falls High School for the very last time, we'll of course be the envy of all those underclassmen, but more importantly, we'll take with us all of those memories of friends, accomplishments, and experiences. Shakespeare once said that parting is such sweet sorrow. Well, all of us would agree that there's definitely more sweetness than sorrow in this parting.

So, until we meet again, good luck, best wishes, and may you make the very best of what life has to offer you!

Matt Gile and his favorite girl, Mrs. Ficht. Sarah Munson gets good use out of our school's computer lab.

Landing Our Feet on

Those of us who are upperclassman or graduates can reflect on our high school careers and ask ourselves if we are the same person we were a few years ago? We, of course, would answer this question with a resounding "no!" As we grew older the things that we did and thought about changed dramatically-- more than at any other time during our lives. So naturally

the person who graduates from high school is a very different person than the wide-eyed freshman who walked into the building on the first day of school. However much we may have changed, one characteristic about ourselves has always remained constant, and that is the need to always put our best foot forward. Whether it was to impress classmates, teachers, our own parents, or even the college admissions officials, we tried to play the role that we thought would best bring us the rewards we deserved. A few of us, however, realized that there was only one person that needed to be satisfied, and that was ourselves. Some would come to terms with this fact early in life, some later, and some not at all.

We hope that the undergraduate "People" section of Zenith will remind us of that stage in life when we were still growing, still learning about ourselves, but certainly trying always to put our "best foot forward."

PEOPLE

The Class of '97

Second to Last Step

It's like reading the second to last chapter in the Scarlet Letter, or answering the second to last question on your physics test. It feels like leaving school...on a Thursday. Junior year means almost done. Junior year also means just beginning. For the first time you do not have to ride the "big yellow geek" to school ...you can drive! Walking down that asphalt pathway from the junior parking lot in subzero weather and trying not to slip on the thick sheets of ice on the way to school makes for a really challenging time! And you don't have to pray that some desperate upperclassman will ask you to Prom, because now you can buy your own ticket!

The most devastating experience of junior year is...SAT's. All you do is take prep classes, bomb the test, take more prep classes, bomb the test, and then go to Tri-C. Hey, that might not be so bad, afterall.

We'd like to give a great big round of applause to our very own junior- Katie Reinart. Katie is an excellent dancer who has been dancing for ten years now. She is currently dancing in the highest level at The School of the Cleveland Ballet. This winter she achieved a company part in The Nutcracker, which is really amazing because there are fifty people in the company, mostly between the ages of eighteen and forty. Katie is an exception since she's such a great dancer! But this excellence is not just handed to her, she has to work her butt off for it. Katie says that dancing is a lot of hard work and takes an extreme amount of dedication. She must practice for two and a half hours on the week days and a whopping seven hours on Saturdays. Although this may seem like a lot, it certainly has its benefits. Not only does Katie get to leave school every day after sixth period to practice in downtown Cleveland, but her parents also bought her a car so she can drive herself there! Plus Katie has made a lot of special friends and she says they often go shopping or do something fun after practice. Sounds like fun! WAY TO GO KATIE, KEEP UP THE GREAT WORK!!!

Little did we know, squad calls whereas on other days he may not get any fireman in our grade! Junior Jon Day has been a volunteer fireman for about two years, and has a lot to say about his experiences. He heard of the idea from a friend and decided to get involved. His father, who had to cart Jon down to the fire station every time he got a call, decided to join in the fun and became part of the volunteer service. He says his most favorite part is giving back to the community what it has given to him and he likes the idea of helping others. On some days Jon may receive two to three er scene of the emergency (in the case of a fire all decked out in a one hundred and forty-five pound uniform) he is occupied with little tasks such as refilling air bottles and carrying out the patient. He is looking forward to when he turns 18 and he will be allowed to use flashing lights on top of his truck. Jon enjoys his work unless someone dies and then it's not so much fun anymore. Congratulations Jon on your charitable contributions to the Chagrin community!

The Class of '98

As sophomores, you could say that we were more or less the middle children. We were no longer gaining all the attention as the babies of the school-- the freshmen-- and we were far from being the older brothers--the seniors. We were just there. The year was rather bland, but we were, however, learning the ropes of the high school. The senior class seemed not to get as much respect from us as did their predecessors, perhaps because we had viewed them in a different light. We became more arrogant as sophomores. We weren't the scapegoats any more, nor did we exit the building covered in emotional bruises from the abuse we took as freshmen. Most of us were ready to get our drivers license and try to avoid wrecking our cars within the first two weeks. Driving meant more freedom to us. No longer were we to rely on our parents for rides.

Sophomore year just seemed to happen. Nothing really good comes out of it, yet nothing bad came either. It's one of those years that you can't wait to get out of, but yet it flies by and you never look back. You spend the whole year wishing senior year would come faster and then it finally happens. The last day of being a sophomore was a great one. We were finally in the big time. The next time we would step into this building, we would have that glow of an upper-classman.

Jon Waddell, a new student last year, joins Chagrin Falls High School from North Carolina and is now a sophomore. For Jon moving to Chagrin Falls is a little different from where he used to attend school. "The school is a little more fast paced than my old school and it is a whole different social environment." But looking back on his old school Jon is glad to be here in Chagrin. Jon is involved in many different activities outside of school such as mountain biking, water-skiing, and is now starting to develop an interest in snowboarding. Through his many interests Jon has had the opportunity to meet many new people and to make many new friends.

When asked what he likes best about attending Chagrin Falls High School Jon responded. "I have moved from place to place and school to school, but so far Chagrin has the most freedom." Coming to Chagrin has been a positive experience for Jon and he looks forward to his future years here in Chagrin.

Sophomore Trevor Gile is learning to love the student life here at Chagrin Falls High School. Active in many sports such as football and currently basketball, Trevor attributes the majority of his success to his big brother Matt who is now a senior. Boasting a size 16 shoe Trevor says that he receives many comments about his feet. "I'm kind of sick of people asking me if I work as a clown, I mean they're not that big, are they?" When asked what he liked best about the high School, Trevor was quick to respond... "The wide selection when it comes to scantily clad females." When the question was repeated due to an inappropriate first response, Trevor responded.... "The Academic challenge that a school such as Chagrin gives to a student at my level." Trevor now hopes to follow in the footsteps of his big brother Matt, completing his high school years here at Chagrin and eventually moving on to college.

The Class of '99

Looking Backwards

Freshman year--it was a beaut. The fear of entrance into high school had been lingering over our head's since the eighth grade. The threats of Jimmy Voelkel, Voss, and Jason Olson brought terror into our hearts.

I remember the first day of high school. Walking down the strip from the Junior parking lot my legs were trembling and I felt sick to my stomach. Once I got to homeroom, I felt safe for about ten minutes, but I knew I was going to have to venture to my first class at some point or another. My legs overcame my fear once the first bell rang and I went to my first class. The day progressed and I slowly began to feel more and more comfortable. It was the first day of my high school career. The seniors that whole year had more say in my book than god himself. They seemed so big and to this day, they still seem bigger than I am today, even though I'm now a senior. Being a senior seemed light years away when I was a freshman, too far to even consider being one yet. Now it's my senior year and I couldn't tell you where the time has gone. It seemed like yesterday that I was in the lunchroom as a freshman praying not to be noticed by any Seniors I knew. The purpose of that year is to get the hang of things and feel things out. Freshmen are the butt of many a joke, but before they know it, they'll be the big men on campus reeking the havoc.

Freshman year--it seems like an eternity before you're out of this school, but I'm here to tell you to cherish every moment, because before you know it, your're gone.

Neville Ho made his move to Chagrin Falls just this year from Elyria. Neville enjoys the school and the people of Chagrin Falls. It was a big change from the his experiences living in Elyria.

Neville plays bantam hockey in Parma and is quite accomplished in the sport, taking it very seriously in competition. He has been playing center for his team for the past year, but has been playing hockey for nine years which makes him a young veteran in a sport that only draws mild interest from most Chagrin students. He misses not having a place to play hockey closer to home. Neville's other interests include rollerblading on half pipes, and playing competitive billiards or pool, which he often plays in tournaments. One thing that Neville seems not to have a lot of is free time. Being an accomplished student along with all of his other activities, we can safely say that here is a person who makes the most out of the opportunities and benefits that are given to him. Neville is happy with his accomplishments and interests at a relatively young age, but is looking for other challenges as well. We wish him continued success.

Landing Our Feet on

When the weekend rolled around most of us would ask that inevitable question, "What are we going to do?" Growing up in a small town on the outskirts of a metropolis and its suburbs, gave us plenty to do as long as we had access to a car. There were always sporting events, movies, mallng, and eating out with friends. If we didn't have a car, we were bound to the town and whatever it did or didn't offer us. But whatever we decided to do, whether it was school related or not, we were forever searching for that one great mythical adventure--that one opportunity to go absolutely wild and crazy. For some of us it would be the pumpkin roll, for others it would be that unchaperoned party, and for still others it would be the school sponsored activities like Powder Puff, the Fall Play and Spring Musical, Homecoming, the Winter Formal, and of course the long anticipated Prom weekend. These would be the events that we would remember most about high school. It was that time when we could be with our friends and find a way to tolerate an otherwise uneventful weekend.

f ootloose

Homecoming

Twinsburg Loss Fails to Dampen Students' Spirits

Activities such as the annual parade, bonfire, the Tiger's football game, and the dance are the main features of Homecoming week. The Homecoming activities were kicked off with the parade and bonfire on Wednesday. The participants included the Homecoming court, fall sports players, and of course the marching band. The parade started from the middle school and preceded up Washington Street to the destination of the bonfire. At the bonfire the students and parents watched the football players place the Twinsburg effigy doll on the bonfire. Under the stars and the illumination of the fire students and parents stood around and caught up on town and school gossip. This would be the last major event before the game.

The excitement of the game boosted everyone's spirits. Friday night, the fans and players awaited the big event, the football game. This year our Tigers fought it out with the Tigers of Twinsburg. We lost a tough battle but the play of our players proved to be a good matchup for a dominating Twinsburg team.

The Homecoming court was made up of Meghan Gilkey as queen, and her escort Geoff Lockert. The senior attendants were Dana Leary and Sarah Cooper. The attendants for the other classes were junior Keri Hlavin, sophomore Sarah Lechner, and freshman Beth Clevenger. Despite the loss to Twinsburg the memories of a great week of events will last a long time.

Homecoming Dance

Student Celebration Provides Lasting Memories

This year's Homecoming celebration symbolized both the beginning and the ending. Obviously, it was the first major social event of the new school year. Moreover, the freshmen experienced their first high school Homecoming dance while the seniors, on the other hand, enjoyed their last. It was these two distinct differences which seemed to set the mood for the night. Experiencing their first homecoming, the freshmen seemed excited with expectations of a fun night out with their friends. Gathered around the periphery of the commons, they kept a watchful eye on what was happening around them.

For the seniors, the realization that their high school years were coming to an end created a variety of reactions. Some chose to let go and have fun with it, some grew closer to their best friends, and some seemed clueless as to what was happening. After all, this would be their last Homecoming dance celebration. Some cut out early in anticipation of more 'merry making' somewhere else, while many stayed around for that last dance.

Whatever their reaction, everyone seemed to kick back and make the most of it, making this year's Homecoming dance one to remember for a long time.

Arsenic and Old Lace

This year's Falls Footlighter's production, Arsenic and Old Lace, was a smashing success while keeping our Chagrin Falls audience entertained in its two night production. The entirety of this comedy, written by Joseph Kesserling, took place in the Victorian home of the Brewster Family, during the year 1941.

The two aunts, Erika Walsh and Amy Garson, feel like they are doing no harm to anyone by killing innocent, lonely, old men. What they don't realize is that they are seriously upsetting their family. Their nephew, Mortimer, played by Jamie Martz, tries to take control of what is going on and keep the police away from his aunts. All this commotion made this play fun to perform and watch, all the way from the dorky Einstein, played by Derek Lomas, to the town Reverend, Tyler Tervo. These characters, and all the rest, added their own touch to this play to make it a success. We all had fun creating this show and we want to say a special thank you to our expecting director, Mrs. McNatt.

Powder Puff

It was cold, it was muddy, and it was the repeat of that feminine tradition we've all grown to know and love...Powder Puff. The defending champion, Senior Women of '96, returned to the gridiron to battle the girls of '97. The duel was well worth the prize of admission as the senior women pulled away with a last second victory. The first score of the game came on a flashy 60 yard run by Christine Knirsch. A missed extra point by Daria Wyszynski would prove to be crucial later in the game. The relentless juniors returned the scoring, however, with a 35 yard interception return by Jennifer Freshman. The extra point made the score 7-6 in favor of the juniors. The tension rapidly increased as both teams struggled to gain yards on each other and couldn't maintain possession. The game would break open however, when MVP, Christine Knirsch, broke through the junior line and ran for a 70 yard touchdown. After a converted two point conversion by Megan Gilkey, the Senior Women lead, 14-7. A strong defense maintained the senior lead and the Class of '96 was victorious for the second straight year. When asked to comment on his team, Reed Cornell stated, "The offensive and defensive lines took control physically over the junior girls. The defensive attack was led by Jen May while the offensive front was held up by Bissy Macey and Elise McHugh."

Winter Formal

King Shaheed Stand-in Saves Evening

On Saturday, December 16, 1996, the Chagrin Falls Cheerleaders sponsored the annual Winter Formal in the High School Commons. This year's theme, "Winter Wonderland" featured all the festive looks of the holiday season. Silver, blue, and white balloons were floating around the room. Magically, snow fell from above when the DJ from Muzik Too played the slow songs. The cheerleaders had hoped to use dry ice to create a misty atmosphere, but unfortunately the plan did not work.

The annual wrestling match caused many dates to arrive late. Too bad Shaheed Bakr missed his chance to shine when he was announced King, but he couldn't make it on time for the Coronation Dance. His date Annie Jackson danced with an inflatable person to the song "Love Me Tender" by Elvis Presley. Annie was a good sport about it, and everyone thought it was cute. The song was dedicated to Shaheed by his friend and wrestling teammate Jeff Grubich. Jeff had Mallory Meteer announce, "This song is dedicated from one King, Elvis, to another: Shaheed." Shaheed eventually received his crown that following Monday morning on Channel Four.

Clockwise from right: Andy Weingart shows us what is meant by the "Chagrin Preps." Jason Widing sports the tattered and faded jean look. Hiking boots trek their way back into the fashion world. Meghan Gilkey's multiple ear piercings are popular with girls, mostly. A casual rumpled look for Kenny Otstot along with his carefree hairstyle makes a statement about the 90's look. Seniors--where would fashion in Chagrin be without these trend setters? Dan Korzan, Eric Brown, and Craig Call spent many hours searching for those designer label shirts. Nick Hanculak sports that casual "New Yorker" style. Melissa and Jeremy show off their belief that style is a matter of individual comfort and taste. Backpack purses, one of the newer accessories to come out of the fashion world were seen around the school this year. Center: Emily Bultinck reveals warm and fashionable sweater and slacks apparel for winter time wear.

Fashion Sense

If there is one thing that distinguishes students of today and students of the past, it would be the clothes we choose to wear, our hair styles, jewelry, and other adornments. These fashions and styles are apparently dictated to us by advertisements on TV and magazines, on the runways of New York and Paris, by the celebrities of Hollywood and rock stardom, and by the shops and stores that carry the fashions with which each of us identifies.

Most would agree that school fashion of the 90's, particularly at Chagrin, is a matter of personal taste. Ask anyone to describe clothing fashion of teens and their response is that "anything goes." But a closer look at the fashions and styles is really an indication of a student's personal comfort, peer status, and the "statement" or image that he or she wants to project. In Chagrin, the preppy look is still king, as it has been for years. The Gap, Limited, and J. Crew are the shops and labels of choice among these Chagrinites. For that alternative look, anything outrageous that keeps the student unique and apart from the mainstream is the order for the day. Throwbacks to the 60's and early 70's are present, although rare. Neatness is a matter of preference and comfort, while the loose, baggy look may be a spin-off from popular rock groups. For the not-so-squeamish, tattoos and body piercings provide not only a statement to your peers, but to your parents as well. (The location is, of course, strictly up to the individual.) As for hairstyles, almost anything is fashionable as long as it isn't from the 60's or 70's and doesn't remotely resemble your parent's old photographs.

Landing Our Feet on

Finishing on top in every competition is still the goal for all Chagrin Falls High School athletes, no matter in what sport we participated. Painful and tiresome pre-season training conditioned and strengthened our players both physically and mentally.

toeing the line

Our coaches prepared us for the fierce competition we would face by having at least a two and a half hour practice every weeknight. If we were going to realize success at all in the tough Chagrin Valley Conference we knew that we were only going to get there by toeing the line. We all knew that our opponents were doing the same thing and everybody realized it would take a little extra to come out on top. With the time and effort we had committed, Chagrin fielded a number of successful teams this year. The dedication of our coaches and players paid off, and we proved to ourselves and others that our small student body had the heart and mind to compete with the best of them.

Rude Dawg Cornell, as he is known by his teammates, gets the dirty work done on the line. He knocks heads with the best of them. Nowhere can be found a Tiger with more pride in his team and school than the Dawg. He was recognized as being one of Chagrín's best sportsmen at a rally at Wickliffe. His legacy of spirit and tiger pride will live forever.

The football team had its first winning season since the Seniors have been in high school. A mathematician may look at the numbers and deduce that the team was a long way off from having a winning season. The majority of us, however, are not mathematicians and know how to analyze Chagrin football.

With the addition of a whole new coaching staff came a whole new attitude in the team. The team always maintained the belief that they would win every time they stepped onto the field and they did on occasion. The team outmatched every would be hard pressed not to notice all the hoop-la that goes on before games- the Tiger Football shirts, the locker tags, and the jersey's all float around the school.

The team played their hearts out every game. They gave everything they had to that football field game after game. Many believed that they never have seen a battle fought more bravely than the heart-breaking defeat at Beachwood. After that game it almost seemed hopeless for a Tiger victory with such losses as Solon, Twinsburg and Chardon, but the character of the team impossible. West Geauga was the first victim of the new team. They lost once Mike Henry booted a 39 yard field goal. Thanks to the possessed play of the whole team, especially Phil Zucker, Jeff Grubich, Dave Bruce, and the line led by Cornell and the boys. They put energy into the game that they didn't even know they had. The fans charged the field and players were going nuts. The game and the season up to this point were summed up by the words of Brett Rayer who said "I never want to leave this field!" The team's charge wasn't over yet, they opponent when dealing with heart per square inch of the body. The 1995 football team, especially the Seniors, brought on a whole new meaning to the phrase "Tiger Pride" and all you would have to do to realize it would be to spend an evening with Grubich and Street and Bruce, and Shaheed, just to name a few, at Cornell's house as they reflect on their most recent game. You would be tested for the last time in the CVC with the final two games against West Geauga and Orange. Anyone who witnessed these games now looks on Chagrin Football in a whole new light. The team proved themselves to be one of Chagrin's greatest teams because when their pride was at stake, more than it ever has been for these men, they stepped up and did the

Reaching the Final Four

*The team set some very high goals for themselves.
Through their hard work and dedication they achieved beyond their expectations. -Coach Malone*

This season the greatest girl's soccer team in Chagrin Falls history walked the halls dazzling us with their tie-dye and thrift store costumes. But no one is going to remember them for this. People will remember their amazing 21-0 record. Their record-setting 125 goals scored and only 8 scored against. The heart stopping game against Mentor when Jenny Lankford scored the only goal in the last minute. Coach Pamela Malone being named All Ohio and All Greater Cleveland coach of the year.

Who could forget Jenny Lankford making 1st Team All Ohio and Greater Cleveland offensive player of the year? Katie Carson being named the Greater Cleveland's Defensive Player of the year. They were ranked #1 in the state for the last six weeks of the season. Coach Malone said, "The team set some very high goals for themselves. Through their hard work, and dedication they achieved beyond their expectations. Senior starter Daria Wyszynski remarked, "I was very proud of the season we had this year. Getting to the finals was such a great feeling." Daria and the tigers went where no Chagrin girl's soccer team has gone before. The State Soccer Final Four was an amazing accomplishment. Jenny Lankford said, "We had a great season. I never expected to do as well as we did. I am proud of what we did and I will miss the seniors next year."

"Who said we wouldn't make it?"

This year the Chagrin Falls Varsity Soccer Team was predicted to be a lower than average team. People were saying that they couldn't be a threat to the stronger teams, at least not after losing eight seniors. The team worked hard to prove these people wrong, and they did. They fought hard for their 12-6-2 record and ended their season at the Regional Semifinals against

Bay in overtime. The team was Sectional Champs, District Champs, and ranked second in the C.V.C. In the state tournament Chagrin outscored their opponents 19-2 giving up one goal to U.S. and one to Bay. Some of the highlights and upsets of this season were the tying of W.R.A. and Mentor, as well as beating U.S. 3-1 in the District Semifinals after losing to them during the season. The team consisted of a lot of very skilled and hard-working players. Coach Gerhard said, "We lost a lot of fire power with last years seniors. I never dreamt that this team would go 12-6-2 and go as far as the Regional Semis. With a little bit of luck we could have beaten Bay. The team played with a lot of heart and the work note of our players was tremendous."

Senior, Hallie Kuhr has been playing tennis for nine years. During her freshman year she played first singles on J.V. During her sophomore year she moved up to second singles on Varsity. Both her junior and senior year she played third singles. Senior year she was co-captain. When asked, "What was your most memorable experience?" She commented, "During my freshman year I was asked to play at a varsity tournament. I played girls that were ranked much higher than myself. That day I played a hard match. I lost, but I played my best to that date." Hallie is looking forward to more competitive playing during college.

GIRL'S TENNIS

A Perfect Match

Winning is overcoming obstacles to reach a goal, but the value in winning is only as great as the value of the goal reached.

-Coach Joanne Kirk

The girl's varsity tennis team had a very successful season. Their final record was an impressive 16-3. They were 5-2 in the CVC, and they destroyed the NEOTA league 7-0. For the second year in a row they won that title and received a plaque and had their team photo placed in the NEOTA yearbook to represent all their hard work.

Brooke Roeper advanced herself through sectionals as the number three qualifier. Her record

5-2 in dual matches, 2-0 in CVC, and 15-2 at first singles. She was awarded with a CVC First Singles award.

Julie Herron played first doubles. She posted a 13-3 record in dual matches, 4-2 in the CVC, 8-2 at first doubles with Abby Abley, and 5-1 at first doubles with Jenny Wilson. She was awarded with a CVC Second team doubles award.

One of the teams most memorable victories came against the Kenston Bombers. Being a rival school it was important to beat them. The girls stunned the Bombers with a 4-1 win. All the girls played and came out as winners.

Last year was considered the rebuilding year for Girl's Varsity Tennis. This year they added several freshman and sophomores which enhanced the teams playing ability and spirit. This year they surpassed their expectations and goals and came out on top.

BOY'S CROSS COUNTRY

Pushing the Limit

A lot of people thought the jump to Division II might finish our program. Well, we're still alive--- and we gained a lot of respect in 1995. -Coach Kirk

The boy's cross country team once again laced up their running shoes and hit the trails as they were headed for another outstanding season. The Tiger runners finished up the season with a 51-53 record and were contenders for the state tournament throughout the whole year.

The tigers were led this year by a hoard of returning Seniors. Geoff Lockert, Trevor Hublin, Larry Miller, and Ryan Hoffman made up the nucleus of the team with their supporting cast of many underclassmen. There was a total of 18 runners on the team. There seems to be a sense of unity among this particular group of guys. You can sense unity among the runners as you pass through the halls. You know when you pass a cross-country runner just by the way he presents himself.

The cross-country team has a different type of athlete. They push themselves more than any other athlete in the school. They bring a whole new meaning to the words will power and determination. You need only to watch a runner to see how he pushes himself to the limits of his ability and then gives a little more. You see them coming in to the school with their faces as red as a beet after running in the cold and realize what a wuss you are for complaining about a simple basketball conditioning session. I know I gained respect for them when I hear that they are up every Friday morning before school to run, or their three one mile repeats at a pace of 5 minutes thirty seconds a mile. I hear of how Lockert and Hublin run their race in under 17 minutes when it would take me about double that time if I could even finish. They command respect with the work they do.

Even though they did not make it to state, they had an exceptional year. Lockert, Hublin, and Miller all made First Team All District Team.

With the beginning of each year comes a new and different team. And this year was no exception. There has never and will never be another team exactly like this year's for many reasons. For one, we will never again have the same team makeup and personality. Although this may not seem like that big of a deal, it is because it's the teammates and their respect for each other which creates memorable moments and lifelong friendships. This year's team was made up of seniors sophomore before the season ever started and our only freshman, Joelle VanSkyhock, blended in with the rest of the team. We were like a family.

Megan Rowland and Jessica Gilway; juniors Annie Cordek, Katie Soellner, Jenny Haggeman, Beth Horvat, Elizabeth Sharp, Sarah Hauser, ME Malinovsky; sophomores Casey Christopher, Hilary Gilway, Christie Holtz, Jill Johnson, Carrie Moore; and freshman Joelle VanSkyhock. Another unique aspect of this year's team is that the bulk of the new team members were not freshmen but rather sophomores and juniors. Everyone had known each

Respect and loyalty among the team members came easily and allowed us to spend time concentrating on the important aspects of our season. Unfortunately we never quite made it to State, but it was not because of lack of effort. We were a team which could have, would have, and should have made it to state but for what ever reason was unable to perform at the level which we had to. It was still a season of success, however, for we all had fun and learned a little about winning and losing. It was a great year and was truly one to be remembered by all. Best of luck to all teams to follow. I hope they will all be as great as this one.

Thanks for the memories!

The Tiger golf team of 1995 will go down in history as one of the greatest athletic teams to ever go through Chagrin. They expected to clean up on every team they played and that is exactly what they did. The team had a heavy dose of Seniors in Scott Sandmann, Tyler Tervo, Rob Williams, Josh Armbruster, Jamie Davidson, Dave Grano, Andy Male, and Price Varty. The team was coached by Mr. Howell who has been with this group and seen them through since they were freshmen. He knew all along that this team was going to be something special and it was.

The theme for the whole season was "take dead aim" and that is exactly what they did. The team started off very strong by winning the Mentor tournament and finished by winning the last ever CVC crown, while all along playing only the best teams in the state. They ousted the five year defending state champs, Gilmore, three times during the course of the season. Mr. Howell brags that this team has played the longest and toughest schedule ever by a golf team at Chagrin.

The team accomplished many goals for the season including grabbing the record for achieving the most wins in a season with 25, a record that won't ever be broken, and also a scoring average of 159. They played in a total of four separate prestigious tournaments apart from their normal matches and won them all. The tiger golf team beat a total of 90 golf teams (including teams in tournament play), and only lost 7.

Many players received honors: Price Varty (Co-captain, 1st Team All CVC), Rob Williams (Co-captain, Hon. Mention CVC), Josh Armbruster (Hon. Mention CVC), Josh Bacher (1st Team All CVC), Chris Osolin (2nd Team All CVC).

CHEERLEADING

Pump It Up!

We have to...keep the crowd going...and keep the players happy. - Mallory Meteer

Many people may say that cheerleading is just a bunch of girls in short skirts who bounce around a lot yelling "go tigers." That may be generally true, but we do a lot more than that. Granted we don't practice as hard as the wrestlers or soccer players, but we still do other things people don't realize. We have to practice 100 different cheers, keep the crowd going through hard times and keep the players happy. There are embarrassing times when you forget the cheer, or a cheerleader accidentally pulls the fire alarm and almost causes an evacuation of an entire building! But there is more to cheerleading than embarrassing moments. After four years of cheering for football, soccer, and basketball, a cheerleader has made about 3,020 locker tags, and has painted scores of signs. But it all pays off when the school is decorated in orange and black.

Cheerleaders also work on many fund-raisers such as the ever so popular 'Dunk-em' booth at Blossom. We also have a fund-raiser when one hundred little girls are invited to spend a Saturday with us learning basic cheers. The cheerleaders also sponsor the annual Winter Formal. We also spend a few late nights decorating the players houses before a big game, knowing that we are not the one's who have to clean it up in the morning. We also work hard at all the pep rallies to keep the school spirit high.

Just realize that we are not just a bunch of loud, happy girls who bounce around a lot. We do a lot more for the benefit of the school. We take pride in Chagrin Falls High School, and take pride in our cheering. It is our hope that our efforts through the years will help everyone someday recall the special memories of our high school days.

-Mallory Meteer

Upper-Left: Senior Tiger Wrestler and a true leader of the team, Andrew Stephenson, man-handles his opponent as if he were wrestling a doll. We don't know the name of this particular move, but his adversary's neck looks like it's in some serious pain.

Top-Middle: Senior, Matt Schron, is in complete control of his opponent, as usual. Don't hurt him too bad, Schronie!

Bottom-Right: Posting a season record of 28-2, sophomore wrestling sensation, Dave Roberts, conquers another opponent.

As one of the best athletes to ever walk the halls of Chagrin, Jeff Grubich spreads his wealth around in three of the most grueling sports offered at Chagrin: football, wrestling, and baseball. He truly excels in wrestling and has worked his way to become one of the most feared wrestlers in the area.

WRESTLING

Let's Get Ready to Rumble!!

"We deprive ourselves of food, put our bodies through some serious physical pain and sacrifice everything for the match, and yet we still love this game." -Jeff Grubich

Do you know the meaning of dedication? How about will power and inner-strength? Do you know what hard work is? You don't...unless of course you are a Chagrin Tiger wrestler. No place else in the entire school can you find a more dedicated athlete or one who can endure a heap of self-punishment. If you need proof, just take a look at Andrew

Matt Schron during the season, they starved themselves to make their weight class even if they did look like ghosts. It seems to always pay off though, for your chances are slim a to none of finding better wrestlers.

The sport of wrestling captures the essence of sports itself: man vs. man in a battle of pure strength. The sport couldn't be more basic, nor more thrilling for that matter. I find myself sitting through every wrestling meet without a relaxed muscle in my body. It's one of the few sports played at Chagrin where the excitement of the moment makes the fan wish he could spring out of his seat and take on the opponent himself. Wrestling is truly the purest sport form.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Commitment Brings Winning Season

"A winning record and team unity made it a successful season." Kory Haase

The lady tigers this year were expecting to clean house on the majority of the teams that they played and their expectations were fulfilled. Senior leadership was a big key to the success of the tigers' this year. Seniors Christy Svette, Kory Haase, Daria Wysynski, and Christine Knirsch were helped by the strong play of Megan Anderson, Kelly Haase, Trish Kruse, Natalie Kormos, and Abbey Abley.

The lady tiger basketball players can boast an outstanding record including giving Kenston two of its only three losses of the season. Should Kenston have beaten Solon in one of the final games of the season, Chagrin would have been tied at the top of the league as CVC champs.

This season marked one of the most exciting to watch. The caliber of skill displayed on the court by the lady tigers was second to none. Their play equaled and in some cases exceeded many of the better Chagrin girl's basketball teams of the past.

This Chagrin team was invited to participate in a very prestigious out-of-state tournament in Greeneville, Tennessee. The tournament was called the Ladies Nation Bank Classic and it was a great honor to have our Chagrin girls participate. They won their game against C. Doak Academy, but dropped the other three games by very narrow margins. The experience that they received was invaluable when they faced post season play.

In post season play the lady tigers knocked off Garfield Garrettsville and went on to beat Brookfield to become District III Champions and Regional Semifinalists as this goes to press. Kory Haase expressed her feelings about the team's season when she said, "A winning record and team unity made it a successful season, and a good note to leave on as a senior."

-Price Varty

Top left: After being hacked on her way to the hoop, junior stand-out, Megan Anderson, puts one down from the charity stripe to consummate the old fashioned three-point-play. I guess the only way to stop her is to foul her.

GET THE FACTS

Kory Haase is the true prototype of a Chagrin athlete. She excels in every sport that she plays whether it be clearing house on the best soccer team in the state or leaving the crowd in a daze with her dazzling moves on the basketball court. Kory provides unprecedented senior leadership both on and off the court. She gives new meaning to the phrase "student athlete". Kory is both a role model and a leader. The basketball team will definitely miss her.

Basketball

Sectional Champs

"We are a part of something special here..." Coach Jim Serluco

Once again the Chagrin Falls Tigers go 26-0, winning another State Championship. No. The tigers ended the season strong destroying Brooklyn 79 to 48. The word that best describes this years team is "unity." When they were on top of their game they were a force to be reckoned with. The Tri-Captains Brian Sommershield, Tyler Tervo, and Geoff Lockert led the team in scoring. Mark Suebel and Kenny Otstot added crazy hustle not to mention rebounds. Chris Fox added firepower when he began starting mid season. However, this was only enough to win nine games this season. Brian Sommershield quotes, "I wish sometimes at night that I could fly."

Coach Serluco always mentioned that the tigers could go 12 deep. Josh Armbruster added sweet defense, and Matt Gile sparked the crowd with his finesse. Chris Oslin was the most improved player this year.

Kent Kiffner earned his P.T. towards the end of the season. Brian Tatom split valuable time with the J.V. and varsity. And who could forget my man Jose's magical two verse Twinsburg. How sweet it is!

The Tigers are 9-13

and still going. However they only won three C.V.C. games. Partly due to only averaging 55 points a game this year. However, lead by coach Serluco, they were a true TEAM. They all trusted and respected one another.

Going into the post season they met and conquered the third seeded Cleveland Central Catholic, and beat on Beachwood. Who knows how far they will go? Coach Serluco says "We are all a part of something special." And thats true. These guys have heart and never gave up.

GYMNASTICS

Gymnasts Show Much Improvement

"The team achieved the highest score in over three years"

The 1995 - 1996 Chagrin Falls gymnastics team consisted of many new members this season which proved to be a winning combination.

The top placers for the team in the all-around competition were Sarah Cooper and Jill Tucker. Both had shown improvement and had often received first and second place finishes.

Other all-round placers are Shea Scanlon and Lindsay Bartel. As a freshman, Lindsay showed much improvement on the vault and will be an asset for the next three years. Shea has proved promising with her skills on the beam.

dimension to the lady tigers. This years team was coached by Bob Vencel and Dave Dewitt.

High points of the season saw the team defeat Cuyahoga Hts. twice. But the tumbling tigers had a tough match against Solon and were beaten by 9/10 of a point.

In one of their final meets of the season the gymnastics team achieved their highest scores in over three years.

Girls Swimming

The Chagrin Falls Girls Swim Team has continued to make a name for themselves. They finished the season with an outstanding 10-3 record, with close meets to Solon, Orange, and Mayfield. The team was led by tri-captains Keri Hlavin, Jen Mercede, and Meghan Zenker. The most memorable meet was the 52-41 win over Gilmour. This was the first time in Chagrin Girls Swimming history that Chagrin has beaten Gilmour.

Because the team is comprised of young talent, the future for these swimmers looks even brighter. Even though this year can be considered a great season, the Chagrin lady swimmers are hopeful of many more to come.

The team was led by captain Jamie Rockwell. Jamie was on the Northeast Ohio top ten in the 100 breast stroke for most of the season. Jamie Rockwell said it best when he said, "This year will be remembered as the year that the Chagrin Falls men's swimming program finally planted itself in the history of Chagrin athletics."

Boys Swimming

After only the second season ever the guys swim team struggled with only six members. They ended with a 1-5 season.

DANCE SQUAD

What a Show!

"Dance is life.....everything else is just details."

The Chagrin Falls Dance Squad show their talents during the half times of our home boys varsity football and basketball games. The ladies show outstanding dance qualities through the use of popular hip music. These girls not only dance but help choreograph some of the moves as well. The 1996 Dance Squad is "small but mighty." These ladies meet twice a week in the high school foyer for rehearsal. Some people are fortunate to witness the ladies rehearsals on Friday mornings. Kory Haase was one of these lucky few. She says "They look so cute and serious in their workout attire." These ladies work hard to spark spirit into the game.

"Dazzling, Exciting and Entertaining!" Mandy Dallas said about the fall dance squad. The '95-'96 Football Dance Squad is the spirit of the half-time show. Through their dancing, use of props, and sparkling smiles, they are able to bring out the enthusiasm of the crowd. These girls work together with the marching band to produce outstanding performances that represent Chagrin as a whole. The close friendships that form between the band and dance squad are what add a certain spark to the show.

The Chagrin Falls Football Dance Squad together with the marching band helped to rouse the pride and spirit of Chagrin. But to these ladies, dance is life, everything else is just details!

Cheerleading Volleyball

J.V. Sports - It's a level of many interpretations. For freshmen, surpassing the freshmen level and moving on to the J.V. team is an accomplishment. Just ask Jimmy Leffler and Chris Fox; they were promoted to the J.V. team and contributed much. For sophomores, being on the J.V. team is a little different. To the average sophomore players, like Trevor Gile and his brother, Brian Tatom-Gile (he gets compliments on the hyphen), being on the J.V. team is like being stranded in purgatory. They are caught in limbo between the two extreme levels, praying that their chance to prove themselves on the Varsity team will come soon. But for some juniors and seniors, being on a J.V. team is a great opportunity to accelerate.

Landing Our Feet on

What does it mean to have a "foothold on the future"? To insure a good education for all students who attend Chagrin Falls High School, valuable steps have been taken. Over the past few years, many advanced placement classes have been added to keep students challenged. Extraordinarily fine computer labs have been opened to students for

f o o t h o l d on t h e f u t u r e improving their computer skills. Students are now able to access the internet from the school. A veteran faculty helps to keep us on task. Overall, however, it is the our personal motivation or lack of it that determines how far we can go. Our academic successes are impressive when compared to other public schools. Ninety-two percent of Chagrin students will continue their education after high school. Most of them in four year colleges. Chagrin Falls High School has given its students the advantage and opportunities to succeed; we have been given a "foothold on the future."

It's All Covered A-Z

G

Gerhardt- German teacher, veteran soccer coach for 26 years, who has been known to interrupt other classes and laugh at students, "Go Navy!"

Grades- Mailings that you try to intercept every nine weeks before your parents see them, particularly if you've blown it off the past nine weeks.

Grunge- Style, music, and clothes sometimes found in our halls of Chagrin High School.

H

Hack- A student who really gets into the computer thing.

Hamlet- Speech: Mr. Ponikvar's revenge. "To be or not to be that is the question. Whether tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings...CHOKER!!"

Hurst- The ultimate sub. He's known for his short ties and you'll often hear him singing his anthem, "La da da boom-di-a"

I

Iammarino- The new football coach and social studies teacher hired to try to turn around our previously 0-10 season. He succeeded, at least in part.

Indigestion- What the cafeteria food gives you after eating one of their breakfast burritos or pizza burgers.

In School Suspension- That room where you go when you have been bad--very bad. For some, a days vacation from monotonous everyday school work.

It's All Covered A-Z

J

Jack- a guy that walks around town telling everyone that he is going to be on the next shuttle to the moon. He's really already there.

Jewelry Making- The mecca for boosting a GPA. Or for those who can't seem to find anything they like at Chagrin Fine Jewelry

Jug- Where you have to go after school for a half hour for throwing food in the cafeteria

Julius Caesar- a terribly boring play about a murder written by some funky guy named Shakespeare which all Sophmores are required to read Kindergarten- first level of an academic career. Half days ruled, along with catching frogs. Placing tacks on fellow classmates squares was the big prank. The letter people were all powerful.

K

Kirk- known for relating a family story for books that his class reads. One day his parents live on a lake in Canada and the next day they live in a castle outside England. With the flat-top he is the ultimate intimidator.

Kitchen- the place in school which spews out processed food, which stays with us all day

Knick-knack- paddy whack give a dog a bone. Memorable hymn sung at Sands.

Knowledge- Chagrin students don't thirst for Pepsi; they thirst for knowledge.

Labs- chance for students to spray each other with distilled water bottles, try to blow up stuff, burn smiley faces into skin with nitric acid and ponder what might happen if the emergency shower lever was actually pulled.

Lackadaisical- the adjective used to describe Senior effort during the second semester.

Larrhigh- nickname given to Leonard Larry Miller by the guru of nicknames himself, Mr. Roberts.

Lippy- rounding the bases he was cheered on by his teammates to "run, lippy, run!"

Lithp- how a Chagrin student with a lisp would say lisp

Social Studies

Middle right- The newest edition to the History department, Coach Iammarino, puts on his game face to attack his next World History class.

Bottom right- "O.K. you guys, the answers to the little quiz on the half sheet of paper are: Monangahela, Sacajewia, Great Awakening, and White Racism, Baron Von Steuben, Dark Ghetto, Ho Chi Minh, Mousey Tongue, J.Q. Adams, Peggy Eaton, nine states, the Chataqua movement, McNamara's new book, a 1 on your A.P. test is your business, little test, good point."

Science Department

Patrick Weigel- physics, chemistry, Assisant FootballCoach

Lisa Hauptman- general science, cheerleading advisor

Matt Ricci- Biology, assistant baseball coach

It's All Covered A-Z

M

Mattern- legendary eighth grade history teacher.

Malone- conveniently married to a Chagrin police officer, girls soccer coach, health and physical education teacher, new mom.

Materni- wanders around the lunchroom in hopes of catching a student committing an act of pure violence such as not throwing away trash or flinging food. Be afraid, be very afraid; she's armed with jug slips and she's not afraid to use them.

May- staged the best act anyone has ever seen when Mike Voss and Bob Rode came in and attacked him while he was teaching his class on elements of writing. The fake blood capsules topped it all off.

Moustache- See King.

Mop- a certain type of haircut made famous in Chagrin and most associated with Jamie Davidson and Scrode Salas.

Munson- "Yes Reed, Oedipus did marry his mother down at the gowden mowdon pond, and no, I'm not getting too excited over Romeo and Juliet, it just appears that way."

N

New Kids of the Senior Class- Brian Carroll, Jesse Crombie, Remi Deve, Danyelle Goodrick, Bradley Hagstrand, Gamze Konal, Jennifer May, Sita Nys, W D Buck Oberhansly, Kenny Otstot, Matthew Waddell.

Nicknames by grade- 12th : Chuck "Diesel Schloss," 11th: Joey "Pooks" Rockwell, 10th Astrid "Stroid," 9th: "Booger".

OABR- Orange And Black Revue: the students chance to show their stuff each spring.

Olah- handles wood like no other.

Ohlrich- Theorem 2-1, Postulate 4-1 and Pythagorean Theorem are extremely pivotal.

It's All Covered A-Z

Pan handling- the process known to seniors in which they extort money from little freshmen. An illegal activity.

Petite- our high school with only about 500 people; also the name of our new computer science teacher.

Privacy- the sacrifice that we must make in a small school like ours since everyone knows everyone else.

Pumpkin roll, Prom and Parties- the upper classmen's favorite events which they will always remember about CFHS.

Quadrant- the team that unfortunately beat the "Australian Pig Bashers" in the largest flag football tournament in CFHS history.

Quaint- all of the tradition makes our school this way; where else do you throw pumpkins down a huge hill, and slide down in recycling bins every Halloween?

Quiver- what one does before one shakes. This is the art of keeping warm before and after swimming in September at the Rec.

Quiet- something you never experience at CFHS, except in Mr. Perrine's study hall.

R

Rally- our school's attempt each September to recognize our athletic teams to the entire Chagrin school population.

Real meat- Chagrin Falls lunch ladies only use this for our first rate lunches.

Report Cards- mailings every nine weeks that some of us really don't look forward to getting.

Roberts, Mr.- Chagrin's All-Star Physics teacher who enjoys wrestling the bears that accidently wander into his Chardon backyard.

Phys. Ed. Dept.

Bottom: This is a posed picture because we just wanted to be in the yearbook. Usually "All Star" Matt Gile would be dunking over the "Backyard God", Andy Male.

Center: The license plate of Wemmer's sled. This notorious blue Caddy is often found rambling through Chagrin Falls.

Above: Gym legend "Rude Dog" Cornell, with the Jim Thome sox and periwinkle shorts, prays that the grease lightning speed of Jason McCammon will catch his wounded duck pass.

Band '95-'96: Keeping in Step

The band season kicked off at band camp during those hot and sticky days of mid-August. We first had to memorize the music that we would be using during the marching season. This head start on the season also saw us practicing the routines and formations that we would later use during our halftime shows, and in the stands. Practice would continue everyday, long after camp was over until the last day of the marching season. With each week of practice we seemed to get better and more confident with our abilities.

This year's student directors were senior Julia McLaughlin, and sophomore director, Dennis Grabowski. They helped to keep us together, both in our formations on the field as well as the tempo of the music that we played. They were our field generals and we took our cues from them, since they were the ones who had to really know what was going on.

Marching band season finally gave way to the concert season, and a whole new repertoire of music had to be learned. For any person who has ever been in a band, the memories of all the hard work--the working and performing together--is an experience that we will carry with us for a long time.

Landing on Our Feet

Beyond the rigors of our academic careers, we often needed to relax and take a break from the routine. The twenty clubs and organizations offered at Chagrin offer each one of us a potential outlet from the humdrum cycle of academics. From service clubs like Project Support, Peer Care, and Student Council, to publication staffs like Tiger Times, Prism, and Zenith, a club is offered for every interest and taste. Many of the clubs like

t oehold for

Channel Four, Speech, Science, Drama, and the language clubs offer an opportunity to enrich the classroom experience while having a lot of fun. Whatever club you joined, the conscientious member got as much out of it as any classroom experience could offer.

Many of our organizations provided us with the invaluable opportunity to discover our likes and dislikes as well as explore possibilities for future careers. In every way our clubs provided us with a chance to get a toehold for success.

This year Chagrin Falls High School had the opportunity to host three foreign exchange students. Each student has written their own narrative telling of their favorite experiences while living in Chagrin Falls.

"My name is Remi Deve and I'm from France. I decided to spend a year in the United States. Everything has been very fine, but in the beginning it was a little bit hard for me to get adjusted. School in France and the U.S. are very different. For example, in France we do not follow the same schedule everyday, but rather every week. What I like about the Chagrin Falls High school is all the things that it does for the students like Homecoming and Winter Formal. I enjoy these activities. In France we have to go outside of school to do these kinds of things. The weather is also different. It is much warmer in France. The snow took me awhile to get used to. This foreign exchange program is very exciting and fun. This will be one of the greatest experiences of my life."

"I am Gamze Konal from Turkey. I'm an AFS exchange student. I am from a big city, therefore, living in Chagrin Falls is very different. I think Chagrin Falls is a very nice old town. I tried to take advantage of living in a small, cozy area. During the time I spent here I met lots of nice people. It is a great thing to have a chance to know lots of people from different cultures. I have had a wonderful time. I would like to encourage people to do this program because it is a life event which everyone will enjoy."

"I am Sita Nys and I am from Belgium. I have had a wonderful time meeting and learning about different people. The group of exchange students have been very supportive; they are like family to me. School was pretty easy for me, so I had more free time to spend with my host family, and friends. I liked living in Chagrin Falls because it is so nice and green and without violence. This has been one experience I will never forget."

We, were indeed very fortunate this year to meet Remi, Gamze, and Sita.

When you think of drama at Chagrin Falls High School, what do you think? Most will be quick in retorting that Chagrin boasts one of the most talented group of young actors and actresses around. Their dedication to being the best they can be on stage shows, and shows well. The three month's preparation they do before a play or musical with Mrs. McNatt at the reins, would be unheard of at any school other than Chagrin. I can testify as a witness to many Chagrin Falls productions, that the professionalism they convey is second to none. If you need proof, just go see any other school's performance of the same production and you will notice a vast difference between the two. The drama club plays a significant role in preparing these aspiring actors for their performance. With over 50 members in the club, you would be hard-pressed to find any one of the 50 who have not participated in a Chagrin theatrical production. The participation comes in all shapes, sizes, and forms. They may be involved in the chorus, they may have a lead, they might be a stage manager, or they may even be one of the often-yelled-at curtain pullers. All in all, the drama club is mainly responsible for creating and molding the excellent talent that you see in all the Chagrin theatrical productions.

Anybody can join in on the drama club, but only those select few are eligible for the Thespian Society. A certain number of points must be earned to be up for consideration. Points are earned through participation in school-related shows, either back-stage or on-stage. There are presently 21 members of this select group which is sponsored by the Educational Theater Association. All members of the drama club, however, are working toward obtaining enough points to be inducted into this elite group in the spring. The purpose of the Thespian Society is to foster the interest in theater and to create an environment where students can pursue this interest. The program allows our members to participate at a local and national level, while giving out grants and scholarships toward college. All in all, there are a great deal of talented and gifted students in the Chagrin Falls High School theater.

Computer Club

Computers are a very powerful tool that all students have at either school or home to aid them in school and fun. Computers are advancing so rapidly that it's hard to keep up with the new advancements, but those students in Computer Club are. Computer Club is a group of students interested in the wave of the future. Their efforts and enjoyment are well rewarded with the new knowledge that they receive through working on the computer. This new knowledge will be extremely helpful in any type of profession that they intend to pursue. Some of the projects that Computer Club have done are: the photo booth at last years after-prom, a video game tournament, and the addition of full length songs to the Home Court Advantage System in the gym. The Computer Club is a great club for those interested in computers and the future of technology.

Landing on Our Feet

Above: Mr. Don Wem. The man, the myth, the legend. The main attraction for students who attend Chagrin Falls High School.

Another year has come and gone again in the blink of an eye. It only seems like yesterday that I walked into school for the first day of my Senior year. So much has taken place during the year which changed our lives dramatically.

The Cleveland Indians owned the best record in baseball last year winning an amazing 100 games in a shortened 144 game season. It was only the second time in Indians history that a team won 100 or more games and the other time was in a regular length season. Though they could not complete the unbelievable year with a World Series victory over the Atlanta Braves, the Indians achieved many team records. Albert Belle hitting fifty home runs and fifty doubles, Eddie Murray getting his 3,000th career hit, Jose Mesa recording forty-six consecutive saves, and six Indians making the American League All-Star Team. The Indians definitely gave us a year to remember.

On the other side of Cleveland sports, the Browns had a very dismal year, to say the least, with the threat of the team moving to Baltimore looming over the second half of their season. Art Modell went behind the city's back and made an agreement with Baltimore to move the team at the end of the year. Fans rallied together to protest the move but their efforts had no effect on Art's decision to keep the team in Cleveland.

The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum opened with much anticipation. The historic opening was kicked off with a concert that brought the music industry's biggest stars of past and present to Cleveland Stadium. Bruce Springsteen, Robert Plant and Jimmy Page, and Chuck Berry, just to name a few, were some of the big names performing at the concert. The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame brings the city of Cleveland the international recognition it has long deserved. (continued p. 174)

This was also the year that the "trial of the century" finally came to an end. O.J. Simpson was found not guilty of the murders of Nicole Brown Simpson and Ronald Goldman. This outcome was greeted with mixed emotions around the country with many questioning the present state of the judicial and legal system. But is he truly innocent? Only O.J. Simpson knows the true truth.

Members of the United States military was finally sent to Bosnia as a part of a United Nations peace keeping mission. President Clinton's decision had many wondering if the United States needed to be involved in such a risky operation.

The U.S. government was "shut down" because of Congress and the President's inability to decide on a way to balance our nation's budget. As a result of the shut down, thousands of federal employees were without jobs for weeks. The shutdown produced a negative image for Congress and the President for being unable to quickly decide on a compromise.

This past year saw the emergence of many new music groups whose first albums went platinum. Hootie and the Blowfish, the Dave Matthews Band, and Alanis Morissette were just a few who quickly rose to stardom. They played in front of sold out venues of screaming fans who could not get enough. If their first record's are any indication of what is to come, we will be in for a treat in the future.

Hollywood did not produce any major box office hits this year to the disappointment of many movie-goers. A few movies that did receive rave reviews were Apollo 13, Seven, and 12 Monkeys. Brad Pitt was very impressive in his performances and established himself as one of the movie

Top: Senior Sarah Cooper tries to explain to her fellow classmate Chris Griffith how to catch the perfect girlfriend. "Chris, the first thing you need to do is get a haircut."

Middle: Our own Biology teacher, Mr. "Lionel" Ricci explains to his class that in his spare time he poses as a Lionel Ricci look-a-like at the Apollo theatre.

Chagrin Falls had a very interesting year. It was an election year and a new mayor was elected. And this time it was a woman, the first in our town's history. The movie House Arrest was filmed in town over the summer. Chagrin Falls was transformed into Defiance, Ohio, with filming taking place on Main Street and by the Falls. The Chagrin Falls High School football team finished its season with a two game winning streak. The first win broke the gigantic 26 game streak. Way to go Tigers! The Pumpkin Roll took place again one clear November night. What a way for the Seniors to leave their mark on the school! We crowned another Blossom Time Queen which brought happiness and congratulations for the winner. We still had those tourists that came into town and asked questions like, "Where are the falls?" Kids still hang out behind Yours Truly despite the recent ordinances to try and prevent them from doing so. Life was different in Chagrin Falls this year much to the liking of its population.

The school year wasn't like just any year. There were some bumps along the way. This school year brought the resignation of our superintendent. Some new members were elected to the school board to face the challenges of a growing school population. Larger classes and less space would become of crucial concern to the staff, students, and administrators alike. It was a year that saw the beginning of a number of changes that would take place in the 1996-97 school year. For those of us that were left behind, next year would prove to be very different than this one with many changes looming on the horizon. For those of us who were graduating, it was gratifying to know that we had completed the first phase of a long and challenging journey. But for all of us, we were happy to be landing on our feet and heading in the right direction.

Above: In Chagrin's production of Arsenic and Old Lace, David O'Hara and Brad McIlquham agree on one thing about the play: It was the scenery that stole the show this year.

Far Left: One of the star gymnasts of our school, Jill Tucker shows why she earned a trip to the state championships last year. This year was even more of a success than last year with a third place finish in the CVC meet. Left: Our girls basketball coach and self proclaimed psychologist, Mr. Phillips, warns late comers to school to keep the noise down. But Mr. Phillips, you are the one who needs to be warned. Your lectures can be heard at the other end of the hall!
